'Overnight Parking Ban Could Not Be Enforced'

Police Chief Roland A. Petrocchi told the Daly City Council last Monday that a proposed overnight parking ban within the city would be too costly to enforce in manpower and time.

"It would be ideal if we had such an ordinance, but I'm afraid enforcement of such a law would be impossible," Chief Petrocchi said.

The law, once passed, would require additional police and the department is already suffering from a shortage of officers, the chief indicated.

"I would much rather put our officers somewhere else," Petrocchi said.

He asked the council to reject the proposal.

Speaking in favor of the ban, council Frank Pacelli said "something must be done to remedy the present situation" and suggested the matter be further investigated by the city staff and recommendations be brought before the council around the first of the year.

The proposed law was originally aimed at getting rid of abandoned cars on the city's streets and "branched out" to include overnight parking.

City Manager Edward Frank said his office had received "an equal amount of pro and con letters on the ban" since the story first appeared in this newspaper some three weeks ago.

Frank said if the law was passed "it will add chaos to the present situation."

Many Daly City residents have more than one car and leave their "extra" vehicle parked for prolonged periods of time in the street, often in front of other homes, it was pointed out.

One other city in the county has such a law and cars not displaying a special sticker issued by police (for $2) are cited and, in some cases, towed away.

The problem of who would pay for the towing charges — especially on abandoned cars — was discussed by the council and city attorney Albert Polonsky was directed to study the legal aspects of making the last registered owner responsible for the charges.

There are presently some 23,000 cars registered in Daly City—an average of two cars per home.

Homes that have converted their garages into "family rooms" and use the city streets for parking, coupled with some sections of the city where only one car garages were constructed (often on substandard lots), were considered the biggest obstacles facing passage of an overnight parking ban by the council.

Meanwhile, the question of what to do about vehicles making excessive noise in the city was tabled again Monday night pending receipt of information on audio testing equipment from the State Traffic Bureau.

Mounting complaints on noise generated by motorcycles and "hot rod" type cars prompted the investigation by the council.

Airport Superhighway Route Reconsidered

Boundary Views Still Are Mixed

Parents of students who attend the Jefferson High School in Daly City have the same mixed views on proposed boundary changes and ethnic balance as faculty members in the Jefferson High School District.

First returns from a questionnaire sent by a Jefferson High teachers' committee have indicated a 61 per cent (of the 109 questionnaires returned) awareness of the University of California Field Service Center report on boundaries and racial balance.

But the reaction to the proposals is varied — it has been from all segments of the Jefferson District, according to Vice Principal Ed Cereghino of Jeff High.

For instance, a third were in favor of a ninth-grade school "somewhere," Cereghino said, while another third preferred a combination of the Westmoor-Jefferson campuses, with one facility for ninth and tenth graders, the other for eleventh and twelfth-year students.

And at least 16 per cent expressed favor of a teacher-initiated proposal that the Jeff campus be shifted in name and facility to the new Serramonte site.

About a fifth, Cereghino said, thought the Jefferson-Westmoor attendance boundaries should be re-drawn.

Cereghino said the staff was pleased with the response, which came a bit higher than anticipated. Some 300 questionnaires were sent out. Every sixth name on the parent roster was selected for participation in the poll.

The boundary report and reaction will continue to be heard and discussed at 8 p.m., when trustees conduct a special UC report session at Jefferson High, 6996 Mission Street, Daly City, tomorrow.

Trustees of the district are analysing both the report and public reaction to it.

On the Jefferson committee handling the questionnaire are teachers Dion Dubois and James McKenzie and vice-principal Edward Cereghino.

The questionnaire outlines the basic reasons for the UC report, usually referred to as the "Stout Report," because it was conducted in the field by Dr. Robert Stout of the UC Field Service Center, as a trustee attempt to learn all ramifications, including solutions, to Westmoor High overcrowding, racial imbalance at Jeff High and establishment of Serramonte High boundaries.

Attack By S.S.F. Deferred

South San Francisco officials were assured on Monday that the Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG) will reconsider the part of its proposed regional plan that shows a "superhighway" cutting through the heart of the city's prime industrial lands.

Because of the assurances, members of the san Mateo County Greater Highays Committee decided it was unnecessary to pass a resolution attacking the proposal.

South San Francisco City Manager Eugene Aiello told the committee at a meeting in Redwood City that his city council was "shocked" when it saw the plan for the highway to extend from San Francisco to International Airport.

Chairman Jean Fassler of the County Board of Supervisors, an ABAG director, told Aiello, however, that the highway alignment shown on the regional plan is not firm. She said it was not necessary to adopt the resolution that was on the committee's agenda and added that the city's objections would be enough to assure a review by the regional agency.

Mayor Sidney Herkner of Redwood City, also an ABAG director, agreed, and called the highway line "only a suggestion."

James Hickey, an ABAG executive, said the plan as it stands now is "only a concept" and assured the city officials that there will be plenty of time for review before the plan is adopted in January of 1969. Even at that time, he added, the plan will be general in nature. Precise details, such as highway alignments, will be determined by local and state agencies.

Sewer Conflict Between Bruno, S.S.F. Resolved

A conflict between San Bruno and The City of South San Francisco over use of a jointly-owned sewer treatment plant was resolved Monday when councilmen in San Bruno approved an arrangement giving that city a capital contribution for each new user of the system in Serramonte.

The San Bruno council authorized City Manager Gerard Borgeer to accept South San Francisco's offer of 34.3 per cent of all new connecting fees in the Serramonte tract.

They had balked at the idea of the subdivision's tying into the jointly owned sewer system because of the additional wear and maintenance problems the new users will create at the treatment plant.

The treatment plant was built in 1964 at a cost of approximately $2 million, and is located on Bel Air Road in South San Francisco.

Conference At Campsite Is Approved

A $2,300 weekend conference for some 65 Jefferson High School students, ten parents and ten teachers, was approved by trustees of the Jefferson High School District Monday, though the decision was not unanimous.

The board green-lighted the proposal by Jefferson High's assistant principal for instruction, Rudie Tretten, to establish a one-time conference, to be held at a yet undetermined campsite, that would run from a late Friday through a Sunday.

Tretten's idea behind the conference is to create "increased understanding" among student bodies of the district's five high schools, provide "an excellent educational experience" for the participants, create "greater understanding among faculty members," as well as provide, in the end, a report of the activities to classes and friends of participants.

At a campsite, away from the school district surroundings, there would be an opportunity, according to Tretten, for participants to "relate better on a personal level" and "in general, move toward that climate of trust and understanding so needed in our trubled world."

Tretton also hopes the conference would "counteract some of the divisiveness current among the various student bodies," and "establish the school district as

Tretten also hopes the conferFontana, however, did not "buy" the package.

Trustees Al Teglia and Elio Fontana, howver, did not "buy" the package.

Post-Times Yule Contest Is Launched

Two hundred dollars in gift certificates is being offered to girls and boys, 6-10 years of age, in The Times and Post seventh annual Christmas Contest starting today.

They can be found on the Christmas Gift Spotter Page, a unique page that displays hundreds of carefully selected gifts, conveniently placed under headings that includes everyone on the gift list.

This year the youngsters will again write letters to The Times and Post on the subject, "My Best Christmas."

From these letters will be chosen the best for gift-prize awards. They will be published in The Times.

Town Hall In Pacifica

Frank Terra Nova, a vice principal at Pacifica's Oceana High School, disclosed yesterday that the coastal community's second annual Town Hall would be held December 9.

The gathering of Terra Nova and Oceana students, parents and civic leaders will be at Oceana High School.

A single topic, "Drug Use and Abuse," has been selected for the session, Terra Nova said.

SAN BRUNO CITY MANAGER Gerard Vergeer was checking progress on the city's $400,000 city hall expansion project this week, as Phase II construction got under way. The city hall addition is expected to be completed "early next year," Vergeer said, with the exact completion date to be determined largely by the weather. The city's police department, city clerk's office and water billing department will occupy the new office space. A civil defense operating center and survival shelter will be built into the basement. The project was financed on a cash basis, with $300,000 coming from city funds, and a federal allocation of $100,000 for the civil defense facility. (Post Photo)

Daly City's Muni Court Still Planned

County Manager E. R. Stallings said last week the county and Daly City plan to go ahead with establishment of a full-time branch of the municipal Court in Daly City despite a Judicial Council report opposing it.

The City Council of Daly City approved a lease agreement last week and the County Board of Supervisors was expected to sign the lease Tuesday.

The Judicial Council of California has recommended against a full-time branch of the Municipal Court in Daly City.

The Judicial Council, in a report submitted to the judges of the Northern Judicial District and to the County Board of Supervisors, said the Daly City branch is not really needed and merely represents a "status symbol."

"We have an ordinance saying that a court is to go in Daly City," Stallings commented, "and as far as I'm concerned we are proceeding on that basis. Unless the Board of Supervisors changes its mind I expect to see a court in Daly City."

The county manager noted that the Judicial Council report did not answer the question that

Bruno Dirt Haul Permit Is Rejected

An alternate route, down Millbrae Avenue, has been approved by the Millbrae council, and the firm presumably will utilize that route, though it is considerably longer than the South San Francisco and San Bruno routes.

The fill material is being graded as part of the Westborough Sbudivision development, and will be used at the airport in planned runway extensions.

South San Francisco councilmen indicated they would levy a hauling fee of 1.5 cents per ton in the event they decide to approve the permit.

At that rate, the Piombo Company would pay approximately $43,000 for the hauling privilege.

A spokesman for the company indicated Monday the proposed fee was "out of proportion to reality," and said a half-cent fee "would be about as high as we could go."

application "until we hear what happens in San Bruno."

The San Bruno Council acted upon the recommendation of a special study committee headed by Councilman Neil Crystal.

The vote against the permit application was unanimous. A number of persons in the audience spoke out against the proposed hauling on grounds it would create a traffic hazard and constitute a nuisance for the city's residents.

The Pombo Construction Co. ran into difficulties from several quarters last week in seeking hauling permits to transport 1.5 million tons of fill from Westborough to the San Francisco International Airport.

Jefferson High To Leave State Building Program

In a split vote, trustees of the Jefferson High School District Monday night voted to withdraw from the State Building Program.

Trustee Elio Fontana cast the only dissenting vote, basing his opposition on the belief taxes would be increased as a result of the action.

Proponents of the move to withdraw from the state program contended the district could maintain a more flexible construction program, spreading out over a period of years major bonding expenditures by building on a "pay as you go" basis.

District Supt. Edward Morgan and his staff of administrators pushed for the withdrawal from the state program.

Morgan pointed out that the district must levy a five-cents tax to repay the state loans, from the time property for a school is purchased to the time when construction actually starts.

In the case of the proposed Pengate site on Crocker Estates property near the Crocker Industrial Park, Morgan explained that construction is some five years away — which means, he said, the district would be paying the tax to the state until that time.

Assisant Supt. (for finance) Fred Goodell pointed out recently that whether or not the district stayed in the state program, it would be required to sell $10,000,000 in bonds, with only about three-fourths of that

Daly City Given a New Chance to Upgrade Dump

The Regional Water Quality Control Board has decided not to issue a cease-and-desist order concerning the Daly City dump at Mussel Rock.

The board had previously contended the dump site was responsible for polluting the Coastside waters and threatened to issue the order, in addition to ordering construction of a $500,000 seawall fronting the operation.

A committee designated by the board to investigate the dump recommended against issuance of the order.

In a memorandum acted upon by the board last week, the committee pointed out the city was making an effort to upgrade conditions at the dump.

However, the committee suggested the city develop a long-range regionally co-ordinated plan for disposal of solid waste collected in the area.

One of the major problems confronting the dump is its close proximity to the San Andreas earthquake fault "which combines to make the refuse disposal opgration in this area a long term threat to the waters of the state."

Recently, a $30,000 drainage project was constructed at the site to carry storm waters past the dump without washing debris out to sea.

The committee felt additional efforts must also be made to protect the "old" fill area at two locations on the beach. They noted Daly City had begun negotiations with BARTD to obtain heavy demolition material for a protective fill along the affected area.

Wave action during storms has undermined the "old" dumping site and is responsible for littering the nearby beach with some debris, the committee reported.

"The beach was found to be littered with debris, some apparently from the dump and some from sources unknown. Consideration should be given to regular removal of this litter," the report said.

City officials had expressed doubt over the value of a seawall along the dump front, primarily due to wave action.

City Engineer Art Reschke earlier explained the seawall could not be guaranteed to "stand up under this wave action" and officials felt the expenditure of half a million dollars for such a project was excessive.

Elderly Pair Meet Death—Arm in Arm

The old man and his wife, always walking arm and arm, were a familiar sight each day in Westlake.

They never failed to take their stroll each afternoon. Last Tuesday they walked arm and arm into death.

Arnold Shovin, 81, and his wife, Leona, 76, of 178 North Mayfair Avenue, Daly City, were pronounced dead on arrival at Mary's Help Hospital after being struck down by a car at the Westlake corner of Alemany Avenue and Cliffside Drive shortly after 4:30 p.m.

The driver of the car, Mrs. Ruth J. Spinosa, 36, 1556 Miranda Drive, Pacifica, told police the couple stepped directly into the path of her vehicle as she approached the intersection on a green light.

Both victims were hurled more than 100 feet through the air by the force of the impact, killing Mrs. Shovin instantly.

Mercy Ambulance attendants administered emergency treatment to the husband at the scene before rushing him to hospital a short distance away.

Police estimated Mrs. Spinosa was driving within the 35 mile per hour speed limit at the time of the accident.

The couple had successfully crossed two lanes of eastbound traffic and were continuing on their way across the final two westbound lanes when they were hit.

A "holding lane" for left turns onto Park Plaza Drive possibly blocked the view of the couple as they walked into the fast-moving traffic lanes, police said.

Jefferson Teachers Not Pleased

By DON GRIERSON

Jefferson Elementary School District trustees rejected the district California Teachers' Association chapter's request for a 4.5 per cent pay increase last week, and adopted Supt. Frank Greenwood's proposal for an "across-the-board" salary raise.

The board's decision came after Greenwood presented figures showing the percentage pay increase would have cost the district $21,000 more than his offer of $290 for beginning teachers and $390 for teachers with three or more years experience.

The percentage raise would have cost even more if extended to the district's classified personnel, he pointed out.

Denis O'Leary, chairman of the district negotiating council, and CTA President Marilyn Harris said they were "not at all pleased" with the salary arrangement, and consider it a "slap in the face for the district's career teachers."

Miss Harris and O'Leary had urged the straight percentage increase as a "gesture of appreciation" to the district's career teachers, and were opposed to the across-the-board raise because it "weights the pay scale at the bottom."

Greenwood has defended his salary proposal, which represents a 5 per cent increase for beginning teachers and a 3.5 per cent increase for teachers at the top of the pay scale, on grounds it is necessary "in order to maintain the district's recruiting program."

The new teacher salary schedule ranges from $6,100 to $12,000, and the increase, when coupled with the 4 per cent increase for classified personnel approved Tuesday will cost the district approximately $200,000.

The schedule approved Tuesday represents a compromise between the superintendent's original offer of $290 for all teachers, and the CTA and negotiating council's recommendation for a 9.5 per cent pay increase.

The board also approved Greenwood's proposal to increases the district's contribution for health insurance coverage from $8.45 per month per teacher to $10 per month.

An alternate insurance program was approved, enabling teachers to choose between two different plans from different companies.

Trustees declined to approve Greenwood's recommendation for removing the district's requirement for six hours of continued teacher education each four years as a prerequisite for pay advancement.

Greenwood argued that the district requirement "is unnecessary, because the teachers far exceed the specified minimum of their own volition."

He said the regulation merely represents a "bookkeeping chore" for the district.

However, Board Chairman Thomas Noonan and the other trustees said they were inclined to retain the requirement "as a guarantee that the teachers will continue to maintain their professional competance."

O'Leary and Miss Harris termed the board reaction "an insult to our professional integrity."

"We were enheartened by the superintendent's recommendation in this matter, and took it as a vote of confidence in the district teachers," they said.

Brisbane Votes Garbage Contract Re-negotiation

By FRANK LaPIERRE

The more money that is anted up by the scavengers for the privilege of dumping east of the Bayshore Freeway, the less odious San Francisco's garbage apparently becomes to the citizens of Brisbane.

At least that appeared the overwhelming position voiced by a steady procession of citizens during a public hearing on the matter Monday night in Brisbane.

After listening to arguments from both sides concerning the controversial Sierra Point dump site, the city council voted 3-2 to renegotiate a contract with the scavengers that would pour $125,000 annually into the city's coffers for the next five years.

There were two important stipulations attached to the money part of the deal:

1. That the Sanitary Land Fill Company, operators of the dump site, pay 35 cents per ton for all tonnage exceeding 400,000 tons annually.

2. That the scavengers pay a minimum of $500,000 regardless if the dump site operations are halted within two or three years.

Both Sanitary Fill President John Moscone and scavenger boss Leonard Stefanelli agreed to the package and the council directed City Attorney Conrad Reisch to draft up a new contract for signaturs.

The scavengers also promised to pursue construction of a new incinerator and were told by the councilmen "that this is absolutely the last contract" Brisbane would enter into with them on the garbage dump.

On a motion made by Councilman Robert W. McClennan and seconded by Councilman Jess Salmon, $100,000 of the revenue received from the scavengers would be put into a special capital improvements fund, with the additional money placed in the General Fund for the purpose of lowering city taxes.

If the San Francisco Rate Board agrees to the new figure—and the scavengers expressed confidence they would—it will likely mean a ten cents per month raise in collection fees for the average san Fancisco householder.

Althoug there was little opposition voiced during the hearing to the dumping of garbage at the site, most of the dozen or so people appearing before the board insisted the council ask for more money from the scavengers.

One citizen suggested the scavengers not pay any revenue to the city—only hand over the deed for the 105 acres of filled land upon completion of dumping operations. The land is valued at an estimated $50,000 per acre.

Jefferson High To Leave State Building Program

amount going into actual construction, with the balance going to the state to pay off old loans.

"If the district goes off the program, all of the $10,000,000 will be used for building and equipment," Goodell stated.

"This," he said, "should satisfy the district's space needs for the next eight to ten years."

Here's what the district can look forward to out of the state program, according to the recent Goodell report:

—Adequate space to carry on an effective program. The district has found it necessary to rent 29 portable classrooms with a pupil capacity of 492 to meet space needs under the State Building Program.

"If we leave the program, the relocatable classrooms can be retained, to be used where and as needed," Goodell said.

However, had the district trustees voted to stay in the program, the relocatable classrooms would have been removed next year and other quarters for the students found, both from Westmoor and Thornton High Schools.

Serramonte high school for which construction bids will be asked sometime next year, would not be completed in time to accomodate these students.

Jeff Board Turns Down Pengate Site

Trustees of the Jefferson High School District Monday night voted not to purchase a 68.5-acre site, behind the Crocker Industrial Park, which had been acknowledged by board members not to be the property trustees really wanted.

District Supt. Edward Morgan said the district probably could obtain a better site in the future when not bound by State Building Program restrictions and acreage demands.

He explained that it might be possible for the district to purchase a relatively flat site that would enable acquisition of 45 acres to gain a 40-acre usable school site, instead of obtaining the 68.5-acres to gain the same amount of acreage.

The property being considered would have cost $1,061,936 in state money, although it would have been re-paid over a period of years prior to construction through a special five-cent tax over-ride.

Morgan off-handed that grading for the proposed site — only about a quarter of a mile from property the district really wanted — would have been costly, nearly as much as the acquisition price itself.

He thought the district, by purchasing flat land at a higher price, probably could reduce grading costs to virtually nothing and the district would come out ahead despite a higher price tag on the property.

One of the problems in the site acquisition at this time — particularly of property considered to be second best, it was acknowledged, was the uncertainty of Crocker construction plans for the area.

There had been talk in the past that dirt for apartments and townhouse sites would be moved sometime next fall, but this did not seem definite, it was noted.

In leaving the State Building Program, administrators declared, the district could build a more complete school, all at one time. Not bound by acreage requires of the state, the district could acquire sites that might require less grading.

Westborough Store For Walgreen's

Walgreen's Drugs has signed a lease for a new self-service drug store to be a part of the Westborough Square Shopping Center on Westborough Boulevard and Junipero Serra Freeway in South San Francisco.

To cover 18,000 square feet of over-all ground floor area, the new drug store is expected to be open next summer.

Part of the store will be an extensive prescription pharmacy. In addition to panoramic drug and cosmetic displays, the unit will feature a wide array of self-service departments with a huge variety of family living needs.

"This new unit marks another step in our continuing expansion program in the San Francisco Bay Area," said C. R. Walgreen Jr., r.p.h., chairman of the board.

"It will be our Sixth San Francisco area store and sixteenth in the Bay Area," he said. He reported that his firm also plans to open new units in Salinas, Burlingame and Santa Clara and that negotiations are under way for an additional store site in San Francisco.

He added that the company is continuing to investigate sites for additional Walgreen's Drug Stores in California.

was asked, that is, what types of cases should be heard in Daly City. The state agency was not asked for an opinion on whether or not a court should be located there at all.

Stallings said he has written the judges asking them to tell what will be heard there so that planning can proceed.

The lease agreement calls for the county to get the $15,000 cost of renovation of the city City Hall back in credits against rentals over a three-year period. At the same time, Daly City will be guaranteed $1,500 a year in rentals.

The state agency was not asked whether or not the court should be established in Daly City, but was asked to recommend what types of cases should be heard there. In its report, the council declined to give the requested recommendation in view of its opposition to the court itself.

Westside Plans Fund Campaign

The Westside Baptist Church will engage in a Capital Funds Drive, January 4, through January 11.

Dr. George Salstrand, director of Capital Funds Programs for the Baptist Gwnweall Conference, will direct the program.

A Committee to oversee and direct preparations and follow through for this Drive have been chosen. They are James McDaniels, 428 Glasgow Drive, Pacifica, general chairman; Alton Swedberg, 19 Creston, Daly City, general gifts chairman; Per Hillerstrom, 227 Lauren, Pacifica, publicity, Dan Denning, 964 Santa Lucia, San Bruno, building fund treasurer.

Purpose of the drive is to raise over a three year period a "victory" goal of $30,000 and a "challenge" goal of $40,000.

These funds will be solicited on a faith-promise basis.

December 1, at 7:30 p.m., Junior Girls GMG will meet at the home of Mrs. Betty McDaniels. This is a missionary organization for Junior age girls, sponsored by the Women's Missionary Society of the church. Mrs. Ann Besser directs the program, assisted by Mrs. Delia McLean.

Conservation will be the emphasis in the Westside Church School during the next weeks, following a successful "record" contest with the Lakeside Baptist Church of Oakland. Sunday church school begins at 9:45 a.m. each Sunday.

S-DA Church To Observe Bible Week

"The perfect secret of successful living in your community is locked in the little-used pages of your Bible," says Pastor W. R. Vail, of the Pacifica Seventh-day Adventist Church, in announcing a special celebration of Universal Bible Week on December 2.

"A great, safe, and happy society comes from following the immortal principles of the Holy Scriptures," he adds. "It has been said that if we followed the code of life laid down in the Bible we would reach all our sought-after goals of the twentieth century and much, much more."

Universal Bible Week is sponsored by the American Bible Society around the world with the purpose of giving special consideration to the Bible's place in the life of the community.

The Seventh-day Adventist Church, which accepts the Scriptures as wholly inspired of God, contributes to sponsorship of the American Bible Society in that organization's translation of Scriptures in far-off areas of the world, and in financial support of the Society's globe-girdling Bible work program.

In carrying its world-wide medical, educational and evangelism work, the Adventist Church is largely dependent on the Holy Scriptures having preceded it as a foundation on which to build Christian missionary activities.

Climaxing this Saturday's service in his church, Pastor W. R. Vail will present special instruction on reading the Bible

'Forgiveness' Is Broadmoor Sunday Topic

The Sunday service theme at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377-87th Street, Daly City, is "Forgiveness."

That topic will be pursued in the sermon at the 11 a.m. service and in the Bible orientation theme, which is part of the 9:15 a.m. service.

Subject of the Bible orientation time will be "The Angry Banker" Matthew 18:21-35, a parable of Jesus.

A solo, "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains," will be sung at both services by Mrs. Kay Mattson.

The choir will sing the anthem, "Now Sing We Joyfully Unto God" at the 11 o'clock service.

The Choir Director is David Frankenberger. Organist is James Whitlow.

Sunday School is held at both hours for those from nursery age through high school, the high school class meeting at 9:15. Jack Sheets is general superintendent.

The Pastor, the Rev. Herbert Tweedie, said that the 9:15 service affords one-half hour of worship for children, youth, and adults together with all going to classes for the last 45 minutes.

Infant care is provided during the morning hours.

'Witness' Assembly Set

The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York announced that it will sponsor a three-day circuit assembly for Jehovah's Witnesses, December 22-24, in San Francisco.

William Thompson, presiding minister of the Daly City Congregation, said the local group will be one of the 16 participating congregations.

Thompson said that the Winterland Arena will be the site of the gathering.

"To our knowledge," he said, "this is the first time the home of the Ice Follies will be used for a religious event. We are delighted with the facilities and the seating capacity is more than adequate for our needs."

It was reported that 1,600 are expected when the conference reaches its final session.

According to Thompson, the assembly theme is "Walking Orderly by Spirit" and is based on the Bible text at Galatians 5:25. Commenting on the theme he said, "Disorder and strife are evident on every level of human society today. It is important, therefore, for every Christian to inform himself of God's will and to be sensitive to the direction of His Holy Spirit."

A 'Giving' Theme For Club Meeting

"Christmas is a Time for Giving" is the theme of the St. Veronica's Women's Club meeting on December 7 at 8 p.m., in the school cafetorium on Alida Way.

All women in the parish have been invited to participate in the program to donate cakes and cookies to the U.S.O.

These treats will be distributed by that organization to the thousands of returning servicemen from Vietnam at San Francisco International Airport.

"This is an especially significant time of the year to provide homemade baking to the men who have already demonstrated their willingness to give," said Mr. Robert Bergero, legislative chairman, and Mrs. Raymond Casaudoumecq, services chairman.

Unit president, Mrs. Raymond Donohue, will introduce a variety show entitled "Holly Follies," presented by members of the Women's Club, at the December 7 meeting.

Representatives from the 17 circle groups will be guests and will present their semi-annual contributions for the building fund to pastor Father Paul P. Coleman.

Hostesses for the meeting will be the members of St. Rita's Circle, chairman Mrs. Vincent Lombari, and St. Anthony's Circle, chairman Mrs. V. L. Ansaldi.

NELL NORTON

(Sugar 'n Spice)

Good morning, good cooks.

Hope Thanksgiving dinner was a delight — the tender turkey, fluffy potatoes and light pies — and that you're relaxing and enjoying the afterglow of all the praise you received for such a feast.

Don't let me disturb your rest and relaxation, but it is time for you to get busy with making those fruit cakes. After all it takes a month of mellowing for them to reach their perfect goodness and that means we must start mixing and fixing right now.

To me of all the baking done at Christmas time, the fruitcakes are the most rewarding, it's delicious, and the fact that it lasts so long and goes so far in serving is a wonderful bonus.

I know it's simpler to go to the store and buy a fruitcake, but then we would lose out on the pleasure of preening and saying, "Yes I make it myself", when guests exclaim over its delicious goodness.

Before we start the recipes we had better talk about the preparation of the pans.

Since fruitcake takes such a long time to bake, you give them extra protection by lining the pans with heavy brown paper. Both the pans and the paper should be greased. Do all this before you start mixing your acke, for it's rather a sticky job and you don't want to have to stop in the middle of cake mixing to do it.

When baking your cakes, place a pan of water in the bottom of the oven. This will keep the top of your cake from getting too dry as it bakes and also gives it a nice shine.

This first fruit cake is dark and rich with fruit and spices. My mother was the best cook and baker I ever knew and she picked this fruitcake recipe as her favorite.

OLD TIME FRUITCAKE

3½ cups seedless raisins
⅛ cup citron
1 cup orange peel
½ cup lemon peel
3 slices pineapple
1 cup cherries
2 cups nuts coarsely cut

Rinse and dry the three cups seedless raisins and one and one-half cup seeded raisins.

If you buy your candied fruit whole then slice the one cup each citron and orange peel, one-half cup lemon peel and three slices pineapple. Cut the one cup cherries in half and combine all in a large bowl, adding the two cups nuts.

1 pound butter
2½ cups sugar
8 eggs, well beaten
1 cup currant jelly
½ cup nectar

Cream the pound of butter with the two and one-half cups sugar, add the eight beaten eggs and mix well. Blend in the cup of currant jelly and the one-half cup nectar. Set aside while you prepare the dry ingredients.

5½ cups all purpose flour
2 teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoon soda 3 teaspoon baking powder
3 teaspoon cinnamon

LIGHT FRUIT CAKE

2 cups golden seedless raisins
6 ounces citron (1 cup shredded)
½ lb. candied cherries (one and one-third cups)
4 ozs. candied pineapple (three-fourths cup thinly sliced)
2 cups blanched almonds, halved
2 cups all purpose flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup butter or margarine
1½ cups granulated sugar
1 teas. vanilla extract
6 egg whites

Rinse and drain the two cups raisins. Combine with the one cup shredded citron, one and one-third cups cherries (which should be cut in half), three fourths cup sliced pineapple and two cups halved blanched almonds. Combine fruit and nuts with one-half cup sifted flour and mix lightly.

Sift together the remaining one and one-half cups flour with the one and one-half teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt.

Cream the three-fourths cup butter thoroughly, gradually add the one and one-half cups granulated sugar, blending well. Add the sifted dry ingredients and beat well. Stir in the one teaspoon vanilla extract. Fold in the six egg whites which have been beaten until very stiff.

Pour batter over fruit and nut mixture and mix lightly but thoroughly. Turn into prepared nine-inch tube pan lined with two thicknesses greased brown paper and one greased waxed paper. Bake in slow oven (275-degrees) about 3 to 3½ hours, or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Makes about 4½ pound cake.

Remove cake from oven and allow to cool in pan about 10 minutes .Then lift out cake with baking papers and finish cooling on rack. Do not remove papers.

1 teas. allspice
2 teas. mace
1 teas. cloves

Sift together (over and over) the five and one-half cups flour, two teaspoons salt, one and one-half teaspoon soda, three teaspoons baking powder, three teaspoons cinnamon, one teaspoon each allspice and cloves and two teaspoons mace. When you have sifted until all the dry ingredients are well mixed, add to the creamedl mixture. Blend well and add TWO TEASPOONS WHISKEY.

Now pour all of this over the candied fruit and nuts. This will require lots of mixing and I find that clean hands are better than any spoon, so just roll up your sleeves and mix away.

Prepare your pans with greased brown paper. Pour part of the cake into two one pound coffee cans and the rest into a large tube pan. Bake in 350-degree oven for 30 minutes and then lower heat to 275-degrees and bake 2½ hours longer. Test with straws for doneness.

Note: The one pound cakes should be done in about one hour and 15 minutes, so keep an eye on the little one. Be sure to test with a straw before you remove it from oven.

When your cakes are done remove from the oven and allow to cool in pans on cooling racks for about 15 minutes. Then remove from pans using the papers as lifters. Place on racks and allow to cool completely. Then remove papers and wrap in cheesecloth which has been dipped in bourbon or wine or fruitjuice. Wrap in foil and store in cool dry place to age.

Music to Highlight Annual Holiday Tea

A musical program of holiday favorites for all ages will highlight the fifth annual "Holiday Tea" December 2, from 1 to 4 p.m., at the Wesley Methodist Church, Daly City.

According to Mrs. Joyce Pierce, program chairman, entertainment will include two young people, Cathe Leech and Jon Fromer, both of Daly City.

Miss Leech will offer piano selections.

Fromer is planning a program of folk songs and Christmas songs, including many of his original works.

Fromer who plays a 12 string guitar, his a music teacher in the San Francisco school system.

His recent recordings include "Jonathan, David, & Elbert" on Mercury Records.

Many Yuletide favorites will be among the choral selections by a quintet from "The Treble Tones," a Bay Area women's choral unit directed by Mrs. Fred Wells of Corte Madera.

The group has been singing as a hobby for several years for community and church events. Members represent the entire Bay community.

Mrs. Hugh DeFrancis of Calvary Methodist Church, San Francisco, will give familiar dramatic readings of special delight to children.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Wesley Methodist Church is sponsor of the Tea.

Refreshments will be served and gift items, baked goods, and holiday wrappings will be sold. Tickets for the event may be purchased at the door, 1474 Southgate Ave. Daly City.

Temple Judea's Youth Set Event

The youth of Temple Judea is planning their first annual variety show and full-course dinner for Dec. 3rd at 6 p.m. and Dec. 9 at 7 p.m. in Fellowship Hall, Temple Judea, 625 Brotherhood Way.

Limited seating is available for the second performance, although the Dec. 3 show is completely sold out.

This all-out youth endeavor will feature nearly 75 teens who will participate in all phases of the evening's entertainment and dinner.

The program will include a girls' chorus line, vocalists, instrumentalists, a comedian, a dance duo, and a rock and roll group, just to name a few.

The show is to be under the direction of Larry Nissim, with choreography by Joan Klein. Accompanist will be Carole Nissim, and co-ordinators are to be Sidney and Jeanette Bronstein.

For reservations, call Helene Heisler (992-2122) or Lynne Ziegler (333-9131) for the December 9 performance.

Second Paint Series Starting

The Daly City Department of Recreation has announced the second in a series of watercolor painting lessons offered by Dr. Marjorie Stevens at the War Memorial Community Center.

New classes, which will begin December 7, will run from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m.

There is a charge of $22 for the six-week course.

Registration will open December 1.

Since class size is limited and interest is high, it is suggested that persons interested call at the Recreation Department early Friday at 134 Hillside Boulevard.

This series will include beginners as well as advanced individuals. Participants must provide their own paints and equipment.

TERRA NOVA TOPICS

'Murder Takes the Veil' Starts Three-Day Run

Terra Nova's drama department is campaigning for holiday cheer, in presenting "a merrily macabre pre-holiday diversion" Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the cafetorium.

Titled "Murder Takes the Veil," it is a gripping mystery set in a Catholic girls' boarding school. Tickets will be available at the door.

Various drama stduents are also forming the Terra Nova High School Traveling Christmas Minstrel Troupe. They will perform for local children's hospitals throughout the holiday season. They are also scheduled for a performance on December 8 at the DeYoung Museum.

A SMILING JUNIOR patiently awaited his turn outside the office recently. Caught smoking at lunch, he shrugged off the prospect of a suspension with a philosophical, "It had to happen sometime. This is the first time in three years I've been caught."

CALIFORNIA SCHOLARSHIP FEDERATION members on campus are offering tutoring services for students in need of special help in certain subjects.

TIGER TALES, Terra Nova's quarterly magazine, which went on sale recently, sold out in two days. Were record sales due to the excellence of this last issue, the magazine's growing popularity, or that item in the daily bulletin saying, "Christopher Columbus says, 'I buy TIGER TALES even when it's not Columbus Day.' "

Clever Gift Suggestion

Having a few difficulties selecting the proper gifts for holiday giving? Mrs. Alvin Richter, director of the Friends of the Daly City Library has a clever suggestion!

Mrs. Richter urges everyone to allow William Bartles, district manager of Doubleday and Co. Inc., help you select the right book for those persons on your gift list.

Bartles will be the speaker at the next book review present by the Friends of the Library on December 7 at 10 a.m. in the Coral Room of the branch library on Southgate Avenue. Those who have heard his reviews in the past know that they can count on going home with a long list of books which they "simply must read."

Bartles obtained his library science degree at Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio, and has had a varied background in the field of books and library work. As the district manager of Doubleday he is in charge of contacts with the schools and libraries in the Bay Area.

On December 7 Bartles will give a capsule review of several currently popular books for adults and children. Among those books he will discuss are Marcia Davenport's Too Strong for Fantasy, and an outstanding children's book, Birds, Frogs and Moonlight, which has been translated from Japanese.

Mrs. William Roay, book review chairman, will introduce the speaker. Several members of the Board of Directors of the Friends will be on hand to welcome everyone who attends the book review and the coffee hour.

Formal Show time is fast approaching for the members of the Art Guild of Pacifica and just about every one of the group's 72 members is spending these last days of November feverishly working to complete the finishing touches on the entries.

According to Mrs. Sherry Thomas, publicity chairman for the December 9 and 10 event, Mrs. Roberta Ewald has placed all the invitations and announcements in the mail, a job that occupied Mrs. Ewald and her committee for a considerable number of hours. Mrs. Sidney Clark, the guild president, has appointed Angel Stewart and Robert Parker the next general chairmen. Mrs. Inger Wallis is the refreshments chairman and Robert Southworth and Luther Spraker are responsible for hanging the exhibits.

The public is invited to attend the show from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. either day in the Pedro Point Firehouse, Mrs. Thomas said.

Horse racing enthusiasts are in for a full day of fun if they make reservations now for the Westlake Catholic Women's Day at the Races slated for December 11.

According to Mrs. Molly Galliani, publicity chairman for the sponsoring unit, the buses will leave Westlake at approximately 11 a.m. and the return trip is set for late afternoon.

Mrs. Richard Dwyer, 755-2032, is the chairman and will provide reservations information to everyone calling her. Tickets are being sold for $7 each and the price includes transportation to and from the track, admittance to the field, reserved seats in the Turf Club and a buffet luncheon.

Mrs. Galliani also reminded members of the Our Lady of Mercy Parish and their friends that the annual Cookie and Candy Sale will be held in the parish hall, following all masses, on Sunday, December 10.

The sale will feature nut breads, cakes, cookies, candies and various goodies suitable for gift giving or to delight holiday guests.

Reminders of two events for the Fifty Plus Club members. This Sunday, December 3, is the special trial day for the prospective members of the seniors group bowl team. According to Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, president, the try-outs are being held in the Sea Bowl on Highway 1 in Rockaway Beach.

December 16 is the date set for the "Happiest Party of The Year," the sixth annual Veteran's Christmas Party, to be held in building 16 of the Veteran's Hospital in Menlo Park.

Members of the Pacifica group will take decorations, presents, refreshments and entertainment to the Menlo Park facility where the 84 World War I veterans look forward to their annual visit with the Fifty-Plus-ers.

Persons wishing to go are asked to mail $1.75 to Elizabeth Funderberg, 351 Carmel in Pacifica.

Linda Caldwell Is Now Mrs. Olson

Linda Lee Caldwell and Roger Harold Olson recited their marriage vows yesterday at Christ Lutheran Church in San Francisco. A reception followed the 2:30 p.m. ceremony at Fort Mason's Officers' Club in San Francisco.

Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Caldwell of Daly City. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olson of Millbrae.

For her wedding, Linda chose a white silk A-line gown with elbow-length sleeves, and a Dior rose caught her illusion veil. She carried a nosegay of white roses, daisies and baby's breath.

Laura Caldwell was the honor attendant for her sister with Alexis Malone, Leslie Mertens and Gayle Torre as bridesmaids. They all wore long moss green gowns and carried yellow carnations and daisies.

C. Bradley Olson stood with his brother as best man. Guests were seated by Robert F. Caldwell, brother of the bride; Thomas Olson, brother of the benedict, and Gerald Engbretson.

Mrs. Caldwell received guests in a blue jeweled suit. Mrs. Olson chose a teal blue silk ensemble with a matching lace coat.

For traveling to Carmel for their honeymoon, the new matron changed into a green dress and coat.

Linda is a graduate of Westmoor High School and the University of California at Santa Barbara. Her husband is an alumnus of UCSB and has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Force.

Meeting Of Catholic Women Set

Mrs. James W. Thain, president of the San Francisco Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women, announced plans are nearing completion of the quarterly conference to be held on Saturday at Notre Dame College in Belmont, with San Mateo Deanery Council as the hostess group.

"The Laity — Responsibilities as Apostles for Christ in the Temporal Order" will be the day's theme.

Registration is at 8:30 a.m. followed by the morning session in the Little Theater at 9 a.m. In response to numerous requests following the successful Annual Convention held in San Francisco last month, Commission Workshops will be included in the program starting at 10 a.m.

Mass will follow in Notre Dame Memorial Chapel at noon. His Excellency Most Reverend Joseph T. McGucken, S.T.D., Archbishop of San Francisco, and Auxiliary Bishop-Elect Mark J. Hurley, Ph. D., will be honored guests at the luncheon in the College Dining Room at 1 p.m. Bishop-Elect Hurley will be the luncheon speaker.

Presidents, delegates, members, moderators or chaplains of all parishes and affiliates in the Archdiocese and non-Catholic friends are invited to attend.

Mrs. Walter Gillogley, president of the San Mateo Deanery Council, the hostess group, requests that the reservation deadline of November 27 be observed. Reservation chairman is Mrs. P. J. O'Halloran, 832 Foothill Drive, San Mateo 94402. Telephone 345-5951.

YWCA to Hear Economist; Dessert Slated

"Holiday Foods from Other Lands" will be featured at the November 30 meeting of the YW-Wives club.

The speaker will be Louise Fletcher, P.G. & E. home economist. Photo slides will accompany her presentation.

The YW-Wives meet each Thursday morning, 10 a.m. to noon, at the Westlake Baptist Church in Daly City. Babysitting is available during the meetings.

Tickets for the San Mateo YWCA dessert-coffee Christmas program on December 8 at the Olympic Club will be available until December 1.

"Christmas . . . and the Wise Men Four" will feature Bay Area artists Peggy Keys and Marguerite Williams Fenney.

Contact the YWCA office, 375 South Mayfair, for tickets and information about child care for this event.

A New Oil Paint Series

A new series of instructions in oil painting by Marge Elliott will be offered by the Daly City Recreation Department beginning December 12.

Class participation has been heavy and persons interested must register in advance.

Registration will open December 6 at Department offices, 134 Hillside Boulevard.

A fee of $22 for six lessons will be charged.

Lessons will be held on Tuesdays from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Classes in this series will not be held on December 26 and January 2.

Participants must provide their own materials.

UNICEF'S Coast Drive Launched

UNICEF's yearly Christmas card sale to help children of the world has begun in Pacifica.

The Christmas cards in 20 different designs, non-seasonal notes and the UNICEF 1968 calendar will be available at the Dal Pac Gallery, 2027 Palmetto and at the home of Mrs. Phyllis Osborn, 1468 Crespie Drive. (Phone 355-0876) after 11 a.m.)

B'nai Israel Services Set

Family Sabbath Services will be held at Congregation B'nai Israel on December 1 at 8:15 p.m., conducted by Rabbi Solomon A. Shore and Cantor Jeno Friedmann.

Saturday services will be at 10 a.m.

The annual Hanukah Bazaar will be sponsored by the Sisterhood and Men's Club of Congregation B'nai Israel December 17 at the YMCA in Stonestown and will run from noon until 4 p.m.

Games for children, food specialties, Hanukah gifts, wrapping and decorations will be featured.

The public is invited.

Daly City Home For Newlyweds

Picture in Cols. 4-5

Linda S. Christman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Christman of Colma, was married recently at Lakeside Presbyterian Church to Lawrence E. Homer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Homer of Daly City.

The bride wore a white organza cage applique with lace and styled with a cathedral train.

Pat Perath was the honor attendant, and bridesmaids were Janet Christman and Cheryl Homer. The flower girls were Robin Homer and Nancy Perata. The attendants were dressed alike in Nile green Empire crepe gowns.

Terry Christman was best man, and guests were seated by Steve Milan, George Perath, and Tom Homer. Roger Homer was the ring bearer.

After a reception at Sabella's, the couple departed for a wedding tour of Southern California. They are living in Daly City.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

By DONALD C. WAITE

DECORATING IDEAS CHANGE

There is a great change taking place in the thinking of both homemakers and decorators about what were once considered "taboos". Here are just a few of the many decorating fallacies which have "gone with the wind":

"Symmetry is required in arranging furniture." For many years most homes had the same end tables and lamps on each side of the sofa. Now it is considered smart to use no lamps or tables on the ends, or a different table and lamp on each end. Pictures used to be arranged symmetrically and are now being arranged irregularly. Chairs were used in pairs, but now the tendency is to use two different chairs.

"Never mix different periods." While many people stay with one period or style throughout their home, the trend is not only to have different periods in each room but to mix several periods in one room. As an example, modern, traditional and Oriental, used together in a living room can be both attractive and dramatic.

"Never mix wood finishes." Some homemakers still insist that all woods in a room be matched perfectly. Colors of fabrics, walls, drapes and floor coverings must all blend beautifully but you can use walnut, mahogany, ebony, white or maple in the same room and really give the room that "decorator touch."

The most common fallacy in decorating was that you had to follow a set of rules. We advise you to follow your ingenuity, and see us for free decorator advice and guidance.

Grass Fire Sweeps Over Three Acres

Fire of undetermined origin swept over three acres of grass and brush at the rear of Linda Mar Valley, about one-half a mile northeast of St. Peter's Church in Pacifica Sunday.

There was no damage, Pacifica firemen said, although they had trouble getting to the blaze, because of its near inaccessibility.

Firemen were forced to fight the fire using hand pumps strapped to their backs. One four-wheel-drive truck, with a 150-gallon water capacity, was able to reach the top of the hill involved to help keep the blaze from spreading.

Pacifica Students Ride, Shoot, Revise for a Day

Thirty Pacifica students revised the animal ordinance, shot at a car, and rode a fire ladder and police cars when they took over City Hall recently.

These activities were all part of Pacifica's seventh annual Youth in Government Day. City officials for the day were Terra Nova and Oceana seniors.

The day's program began at 9 a.m. in the City Council Chambers with a welcome from Mayor Grace McCarthy. Acting for City Manager C. W. Masonheimer, Assistant City Manager Jim Swane took charge of the program. He reviewed Pacifica's city government. Edward Lokker, director of parks, beaches, and recreation, explained the workings of his department.

Students were then transported in a variety of vehicles on a tour of city-held operations. First stop was the Sharp Park Rifle Range, where Police Chief Neil Tremaine conducted a firearms demonstration. Mock officials took turns shooting at an old car which had been set up as a target.

Fire Chief Edwin Greer guided students through the Sharp Park Fire Station. A ride on the ladder of the city's newest fire truck was included in the tour.

Participants joined their counterparts at Nick's Rockaway for a Rotary luncheon. Guest speaker, Pacifica publisher Bill Drake, spoke on "Pacifiac, the First Ten Years."

A tour of the Public Works Department, which included the Sharp Park sewage plant, followed lunch. Then it was back to the Council Chambers for a mock City Council meeting run by the students.

After a lively discussion among council members and a few students acting as irate citizens, the council revised Section 28 of the city's animal ordinance. The revision involved charging higher impoundation fees to curb the rate of stray dogs. The council also agreed to make use of the Jefferson Union High School District IBM services for accounting operations.

Participants returned to City Hall that night to sit in on an actual council meeting.

This year's student officials from Oceana were: Mayor Joanne Mannino, Councilmen Tom Jones and Dan Woodard, Planning Commissioner Lana Martinez, Chairman of the P. B. & R. Commission Steve Hirsh, P. B. & R., Commissioner Harold Morton, Personnel Board Member Nora Tellez, Chairman Safety Commission Debbie Ervin, Safety Commissioner Linda Beer, City Attorney Denise Kermabon, City Historian Pam Pollard, Asst. City Manager Jim Egan, City Engineer Lorna Sailors, Police Chief Clarence Livingstone, and City Treasurer Janice Garrett. Social science instructor Michael Moseness acted as advisor.

From Terra Nova: Vice Mayor Pat Higgins, Councilwoman Carol Sitts, Chairman Planning Commission Gregg Beeman, Planning Commissioners Joann Fizer and Lynda Luce, P. B. & R. Commissioners Linda Newman and Jody Fulford, Personnel Advisory Board Chairman Bonnie Kehoe, Personnel Board Member Kathy McGrady, Safety Commsinier Rex Starr, City Manager Randy Barnhart, Director of Public Works Department Ruth Conforte, Fire Chief Gary LaBelle, Director of P. B. & R. Pat Coil, and Health Inspector Sue Eldred. Miss Jean Ferdinansen, TN social science teacher, was the advisor.

Election Drive Is Begun

An open house champagne reception for Congressional candidage Roy Archibald will be held Sunday, December 3, at Nick's Turtle, Rockaway Beach in Pacifica from 2 to 4 p.m.

The affair will give Pacifica residents a chance to meet and discuss local and national issues with the Democratic nominee for Congress.

Free, and open to the public, it is sponsored by the Pacifica Committee to Elect Roy Archibald to Congress, whose members include Joe Fassler, Ken Hill, Sid Lorvan, and Stan Farber.

Chairman of the reception is Jack Moylett. Serving as hostesses for the reception are Mmes. Bernice Hill, Joni Strom, Ruth Horanzy, and Anita Lucas.

Archibald opened his campaign as the nominee last weekend, when he toured San Mateo county in an antique Packard.

The election, December 12, will pit Archibald against Paul N. "Pete" McCloskey who won the Republican nomination November 14 in an open primary. McCloskey left today for Washington, D.C., for a two-day briefing.

Meanwhile a write-in drive for Shirley Temple Black was said to be gaining strength, with a report that its proponents were opening an office in San Mateo.

Grandstand Set Ablaze At Ball Park

A grandstand at the Orange Park baseball field in South San Francisco was damaged Sunday by a fire which was intentionally set, police reported.

Officers said the fire, which caused minor damage to the wooden structure, was started with a can of cigaret lighter fluid.

Firemen were summoned to extinguish the blaze.

20-7 Victory

Cap Beats Mills, Takes Second

By CRAIG BECKHEYER
Post Sports Writer

They played a football game for second place in the Mid-Peninsula League last Wednesday at Burlingame High School, but judging from the enthusiastic, turn-away crowd and the ferocity displayed afield you would have bet your Thanksgiving turkey it was the Super Bowl in miniature.

Capuchino and Mills, deadlocked behind champion San Mateo with identical 4-1 records going into this one, locked horns for the runner-up spot in their season finale with Cap's Mustangs prevailing, 20-7, on the strength of an explosive third period uprising that saw them come from behind to post a fine 9-1 record against all comers for the season.

The Tangs managed a neat trick early in the third period to take control of the game whn they scored 14 points in nine seconds to go from an 0-7 deficit to a 14-7 advantage and develop the momentum to carry them to victory.

Mills' John England had hit Russ Campbell with a 23-yard scoring toss in the second quarter to give the Vikes a 7-0 lead that they carried off the field at half time. After the homecoming festivities were over, however, the Steeds came on with a vengeance.

Taking the second half kickoff 67 yards in eight plays, the San Bruno School tied it up on Dan Mahle's fine 30-yard run and Al Kopatschek's PAT.

On the following kick-off, Phil Cleak fumbled the return on his 24 and Cap's Craig Dalzelle picked it up on a dead run, sprinting to the end zone untouched and before the Norsemen knew what had hit them they were down to stay at 14-7.

Mahle, who had a brilliant night with 70 yards scrimmage in 17 carries, continued his heroics mnutes later when he intercepted a Jeff Jones pass and returned it 55 yards for Capuchino's icing touchdown.

Statistically, the Vikes had a decided edge. They outgained the Mustangs over-all, 162-158; they out first-downed them 10-6; they fumbled fewer times and were penalized less, but on the scoreboard, where it counts, they were found lacking.

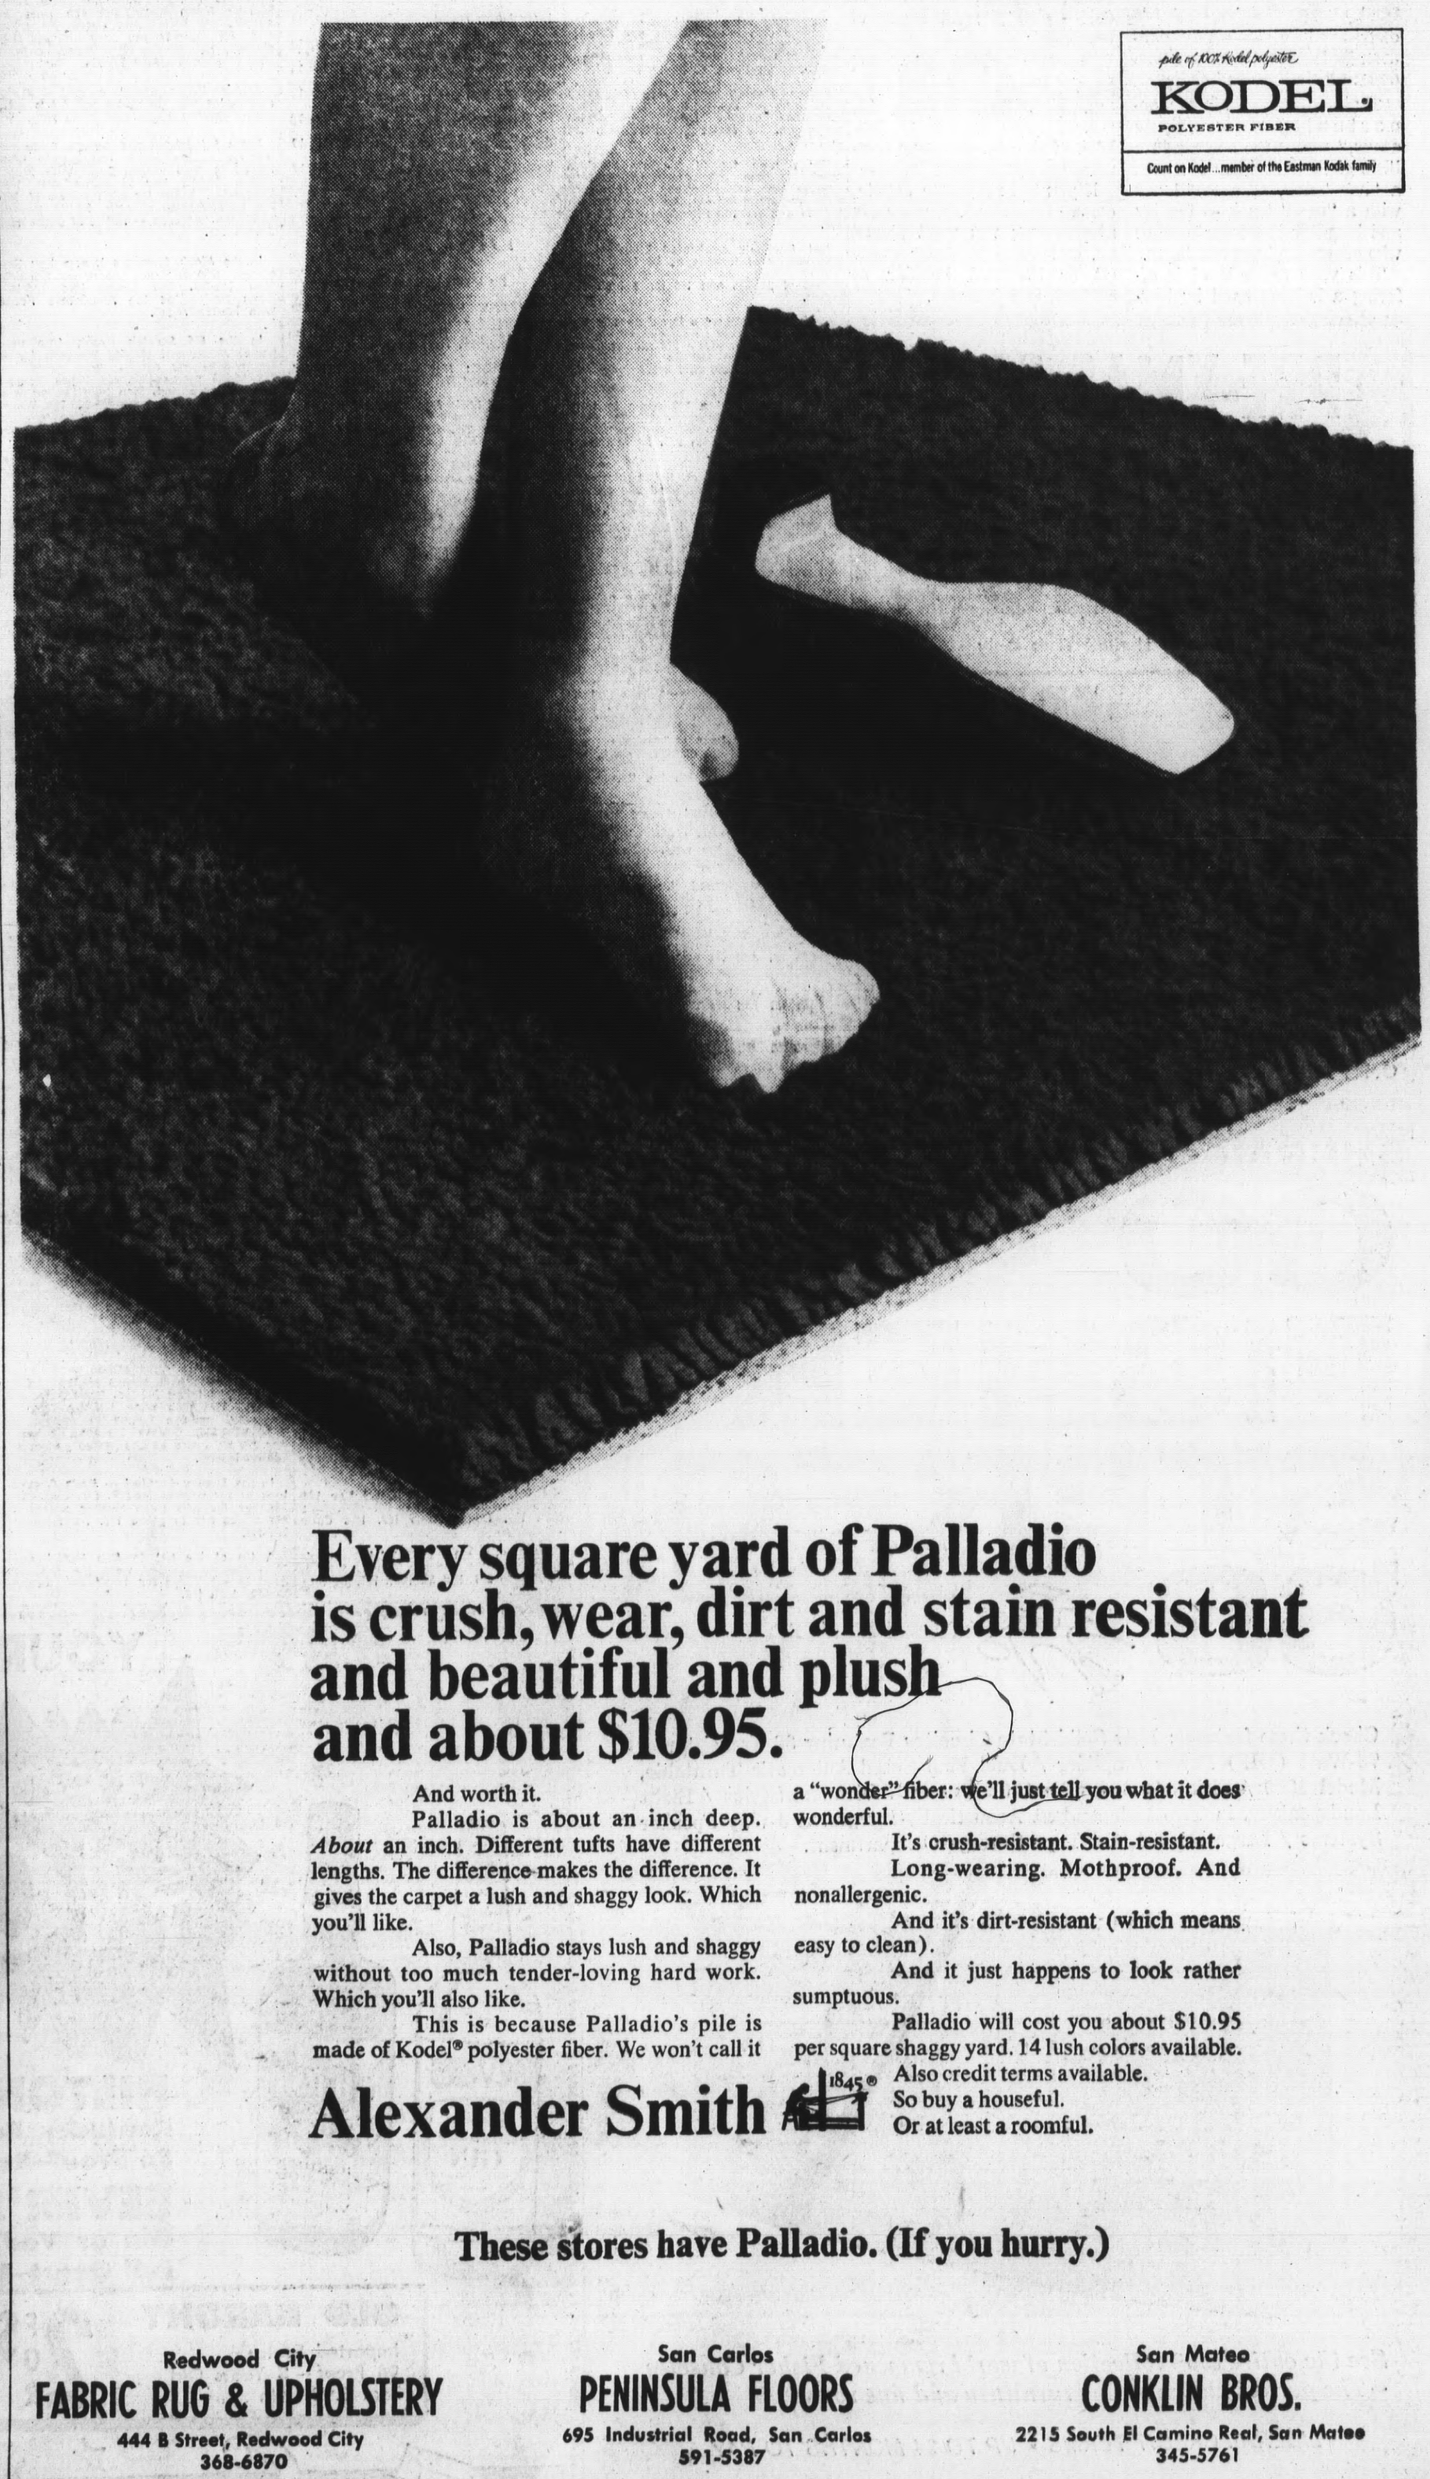
KODEL POLYESTER FIBER
Count on Kodel...member of the Eastman Kodak family



Every square yard of Palladio is crush, wear, dirt and stain resistant and beautiful and plush and about $10.95.

And worth it.

Palladio is about an inch deep. About an inch. Different tufts have different lengths. The difference makes the difference. It gives the carpet a lush and shaggy look. Which you'll like.

Also, Palladio stays lush and shaggy without too much tender-loving hard work. Which you'll also like.

This is because Palladio's pile is made of Kodel® polyester fiber. We won't call it a "wonder" fiber: we'll just tell you what it does wonderful.

It's crush-resistant. Stain-resistant.

Long-wearing. Mothproof. And nonallergenic.

And it's dirt-resistant (which means easy to clean).

And it just happens to look rather sumptuous.

Palladio will cost you about $10.95 per square shaggy yard. 14 lush colors available.

Also credit terms available.

So buy a houseful.

Or at least a roomful.

Serra Bowl to Help Marine Toy Campaign, Sets Benefit Tourney

Every year the San Mateo County U.S. Marine Reserve collects toys for needy families.

Taken to the Christmas Bureau in San Mateo, they are distributed to the needy children by Reserve members who donate their time and skills.

Their only "pay" is the opportunity to play "Santa Claus," seeing the sparkle in a little girl's eyes when she sees a "new" doll, or a small boy with a "new" truck — the joy and laughter it brings to those who otherwise have had tears.

This year Serra Bowl is offering a helping hand by having the first annual toys for tots handicap sweeper, which started November 20 and will end December 16.

The entry fee is one toy, valued at $1 or more — new or old — plus $2 for the cost of bowling.

The men in charge included Lt. Col. Howard Looney, C.O., Sgt. Maj. Carl Hanson, Lt. Col. James Ryckman, Sgt. Maj. Clinton Puckett, and Gunnery Sgt. James Meader.

If you have a toy to donate, come in and bowl. If you have several toys you want picked up, call Sergeant Major Puckett or Sergeant Meader at 588-7548, in San Bruno.

The activities at the Westlake Bowl and Serra Bowl in Daly City and Sea Bowl in Pacifica are prepared weekly for the Post by staff members of each business. Inquiries should be directed to them, rather than the Post.

Westlake Bowl

By JIM GUEALISH

The Westmoor Handicap League produced the sensational score of the week when Joe Harrington shot a tremendous 647 series to top the league for the week. Joe started with a 227 game, followed with 233 and finished with 187 for a 647 series to set a new mark for this year's league.

Walt Winns rolled two thirds of a big step ladder series in the Southgate Mixed Fived Fives League Tuesday eevning as he shot a 214 third agme, preceded by a 213 second game. Had he rolled a few pins more in his first game, he would have earned an ABC patch. He did take top honors for the league for the week with a 604 seires. Leading the ladies was Jackie Grove with a 208 game and 521 series.

Jo Gomez set a new high series mark for the ladies in the Pfizer and Friends League shooting games of 194-169 for 552 while Al Golovin topped the men with a 604 series on games of 189-178 and 237.

Donna Ravetti and Larry Mendonsa wree high for the week in the Westlake Merchants League, Donna with a 186 game and 518 series and Larr with 192 and 522.

Three men topped the six hundred mark in the 850 American Scratch League last week led by Jim McGuirk with 181-24424-4 for 669, Joe Maurino with 256-634 and Warrne Fineman with 233 and 610.

Hal Buckholz celebrated Thanksgiving with plenty of turkeys as he topped the Native Sons League Monday evening with games of 245-215 and 160 for a high 620 series.

Dave Amendola set a torrid pace in the Lucky Lager Mixed Lleague as he started with a 195 game, shot a 235 second game and finished with 209 for a 639 series while Chris Maxfield shot a 202 game and 520 series.

Herb Carr rolled a 253 game to take top honors in that department in the Bnai B'rith League while high series honors went to Al Simon with 593. Al had high games of 206 and 202.

Neva Runningwolf of the Ladies 850 Scratch League accomplished the dream of every bowler last week when she rolled a perfect 300 game in the BPAA All Star Tournament at the Camino Bowl in Mountain View. Neva then returned to Westlake to lead the ladies the Monday night 850 League with a 576 series on a high game of 218. Congratulations, Neva.

Junior 900 Masters teams are getting plenty of seasoning this year as they manage to win their share of games in the twenty team league. Last week our A team won one game from San Carlos Bowl as Bob Peters led the scoring with a 205 game and 562 series. Gary Pollack led the B team to a single victory over the 19th Ave Bowl team as he rolled a big 667 series on games of 233-191 and 243.

The league will bowl at Westlake next Sunday evening at six o'clock. This is an excellent opportunity for adults and youngsters alike to watch the "stars of tomorrow" in action.

Secretary Al Benedetti showed that he can bowl as well as he can keep the records as he led the Northgate Mixed Fives League for the week with a 224 game and 581 series.

Jim Phillips topped the Southwest Handicap Leagut for the week as he rolled a 225 game and 581 series.

In the Park Plaza Mixed League, Huck Hunter with 223 and 558 and Betty Montesan with 181 and 494 were high for the week.

Chuck Lucas led the 805 Scratch League for the week as he shot a 210 game and a 581 series.

Emily Drago led the ladies in the Wednesday Morning Glory League as she rolled a 176 game and 512 serie, followed BY Diane MERLO WITH 1⅛&1⅛⅛+7½ AND Betty Fontana with a 184 game and 500 series.

An even 500 series by Zelia Bartlett topped the Tuesday Rebels. Zelia had a 174 high game while Vicki Ertassi had a 204 and Laurel Lausmann a 201.

Gary Moeller shot games of 247-226 and 224 to lead the scoring last Wednesday in the Les Barrett 940 Masters League at Westlake Bowl with a great 697 series.

Tee Haar Scrap Metal Team moved into a tie for first place with Barry's of Westlake as the span between the first and last place teams became narrower.

Twenty-two bowlers in the league are now averaging over the 190 mark led by Bob Hood with a tremendous average of 216 after thirty games. Les Barrett and Jim Pistolesi are tied with 211 followed by Bob Morrison with 209. Standings after 10 weeks of competition are as follows:

Serra Bowl

By BETTY LOU OSTERGREN

Speaking of tournaments, Serra Bowl conveys thanks to Jim Grealish and Bill Greer at Westlake Bowl for bringing over such a nice squad to bowl in the City of Hope.

We're certain that everyone connected with this charitable organization appreciates your efforts, thanks again gentlemen.

The winners of the weekly KINGS & QUEENS (Which qualify them to bowl in the montly King's & Queen's) are for the queens — Diedre Daggs 639, Millie Folegstrom 603, Clara Meadows 598, Donna Swartfager 519. For the kings it's — Bob Poetzl 643, Joe Warner 635, Larry Pedrone 607, Charlie Cox 565.

In the Monday afternoon Blue Chip Marion Mann again led the girls in stamps and series, she had a 204 game and 559 series and took home 2380 stamps, Elmira Garcia cleaned up with 2350 in stamps and a 200-514.

Jackie Miller netted a cool 2000 in stamps as she converted the 6-7-10 split with a colored pin — nice going girls.

Betty Fitzpatrick and Bonnie Anderson bowling in the Serra Tournament Club turned in good series, Betty with 21086-178-74, Bonnie had hi game with 176-176-221-573. A tie for high series of 580 the Untouchables between Nettie Cavelli and Joan Cameron — Nettie hi game 184, Joan's 181.

A tip of the hat to Bob Poetzl and John Moreno as they were the first to bowl in our "Toys for Tots" Bob turned in 582, John 579.

Champs Get Nine Players On Star Team

South San Francisco High School, the perennial champ of the North Peninsula League football wars, again dominated the All North Peninsula League football team.

Coach Ray DeJong's Warriors, who won the title again this year, headed the 1967 version of the All-NPL team with nine selections on the 23-man offensive and defensive team voted on by the coaches.

Runner-up Westmoor was second with seven selections, while El Camino and Half Moon Bay High Schools each placed three players on the All-NPL squad.

Speedster Russ Cottrell, who amply filled the shoes of former SSF star Greg Jones now with UCLA, headed the group of Warriors. The blond headed youngster was again acclaimed "Back of the Year" in the NPL to take that honor for two years running.

Warrior coach Ray DeJong had to share the spotlight with young Jerry Murphy of Half Moon Bay as both were named "co-coaches of the year" in the north conference.

Westmoor's Steve McBride, a mobile 6-0, 205-pound senior, took down "Lineman of the Year" honors. McBride was only one of two players named to both the All-NPL offensive and defensive units.

Cottrell, who broke Jones' scoring record in his three years at South SF, gained 489 yards in league play for a 5.6 average this season.

Others making the NPL team from South SF included Greg Bregante, Mike Verducci, Mark DeVicenzi, Mike Heaney, Lori Bernardini, Mario Bernardini and Alex Smith.

Bregante was the other player named to both the All-NPL offensive and defensive teams. The 5-10, 181-pound senior barely missed staking the "Lineman of the Year" honors.

An oddity about the team was the inclusion of three brother acts out of the 21 youths named. Defensive standouts Lori and Mario Bernardini from South SF are brothers, while Half Moon Bay's quarterback Jerry Mullins and end Gene Mullins are also brothers. Defensive end Jim Teames and linebacker Bob Teames of El Camino High are the third brother team.

Teams are Accused Of 'Pouring It On'

They're at it again, the hysterical people who yell "pouring it on" everytime there's a lopsided high school football game. Latest screamers are the AFT, the teacher's union; that is, Local 1481. They recently, right after a lopsided local football score, asked the school board to consider dropping out of the North Peninsula League interscholastic sports program.

What upsets us most about the proposal — aside from the fact that AFT members obviously don't read our column, which just two weeks ago outlined the many possible reasons for lopsided scores besides "pouring it on" — is the official statement that the interscholastic sports program benefits only a small percentage of the student body.

Following this line of reasoning to its logical conclusion, we should then eliminate homemaking, auto shop, woodwork, electronics, mechanical drawing, journalism, creative writing, psychology, Spanish clubs, Future Teachers of America clubs, Future Business Leaders of America clubs, in other words all of the courses and activities which benefit only a relatively small percentage of each student body.

WE MIGHT ASK whatever happened to the importance of the individual, but we don't wish to turn a sports column into an editorial on educational philosophy.

So back to other AFT statements regarding interscholastic sports. The organization wants to know of what benefit lopsided games are. "What happens," the AFT asks, "to kids when they have the daylights kicked out of them and what do the kids who do the licking learn?"

What happens is, quite simply, the kids who get the daylights kicked out of them have lost badly and the other kids feel pretty darned good about it. And the kids who got murdered this year would feel just as good if they massacred their enemies next year. Must something always be learned? Can't a game be played just for the sake of playing?

The only thing wrong with losing, really, is that you don't win. And as for winning, it beats losing. What the score is doesn't matter if the winners have won honorably, not kicking anybody when down, and if the losers have lost trying as hard as they knew how. Scores don't make for humiliating defeats; only how the scores were attained.

Football is tough and heartbreaking and sometimes even humiliating, yes. But so is life. Football is a war, yes. So is the world.

SPEAKING OF LOPSIDED SCORES, we couldn't help but laugh out loud at the pseudo-sportsmanship displayed by a Westmoor coach after the Rams' recent 69-0 shellacking of Terra Nova.

The score we could understand, but the utterance of the coach — which was certainly innocent, well-meaning and not intended to be ironic—to a Tiger player as they walked of the field together, "Good game, fella," was more than we could take.

It had been a lousy game and nobody knew it better than the Terra Nova players. They had been walloped, had looked bad. It happens to everybody once or twice in his lifetime and it's certainly nothing to be ashamed of. To tell a kid, "nice game" after such a debacle, therefore, borders on cruelty. It's also a lie.

Such situations are better left in silence, or at least ended with something like, "Better luck next time, kid."

THE LATEST CLASSIC from the comedy team of Fouts and Soltau (this one from Gordy, the 49er "Analyst" — and maybe the 49er's do need an analyst):

"Looking at other scores in the NFL, and the final score, Bears 30, St. Louis 3, that's the third quarter . . . whoops." (Followed by no further comment.)

If you think Rick Barry's having an easy time of it and just "staying in shape" with the KYA Oneders, you've got another thing coming.

Don Delbon, the Terra Nova basketball coach and now Barry's teammate ("It's a thrill just to walk on the court with that guy"), notes that playing with the Oneders may serve as a greater benefit to Barry than just staying in condition because Barry's delicate and fiery temperament is being put to the test. And Rick's responding well.

Barry has actually placed himself in a sensitive position. If he goes all out against paunchy schoolteachers (the Oneders, remember, play only high school faculties), he's a poor sport, taking advantage of the talentless opposition and hogging the show from his teammates. If he relaxes and has fun, he's a showboat, a guy trying to show up the poor, unfortunate opposition, as well as his mates.

Of course, there's always at least one member of every faculty team who made honorable mention as a prep and who still, somewhere in the dark recesses of his Walter Mitty mind, thinks he was never given proper recognition and by golly, Barry's the guy who's going to act as his stepping stone to the fame he deserves.

Walter invariably starts his climb to immortality by trying to soften Barry up with elbows and hips, and Barry must either retaliate or take it. Barry is a big, strong, tough athlete, and could undoubtedly physically demolish any amateur. He must make a choice: be either a bully and smash the guy back, or cease and desist and be labeled all manner of contemptuous names. Barry has chosen to be good natured about it all, but just subtly tough enough to let the potential hatchet men know — without showing them up — that he isn't going to be pushed around.

Barry has thus far achieved the proper balance. He's been scoring well, but not outrageously; Delbon's outscored him several times — mainly on setups by Rick. And the man who will nevermore be labeled Super Soph has yet to have a temper tantru.

A RECENT REPORT out of Maryland indicates that there may be a revolution brewing in horse racing. Kathy Kusner, a member of the U.S. Olympic riding team, has applied to the racing commission for a jockey's license, and says that if she doesn't get it she will fight with the 1964 Civil Rights Act, which bars discrimination on the basis of sex.

There is precedent (during World War II years a Judy Johnson rode on Maryland tracks), but more important, in our estimation, is that soon this may not be an isolated or freak incident. More women may follow.

If American men keep growing larger, jockeys will either have to be bred from birth, like Japan's Sumo wrestlers, horses will have to be bred larger, handicapping systems will have to be revised, or, very simply, the little woman will have to be allowed to ride.

D.C. RECREATION

Boys' Cage League Now Being Formed

The Daly City Recreation Department is organizing its 1968 Boys Basketball League, open to all boys attending school or living in Daly City.

Teams are sponsored by the various Daly City Youth Athletic Organizations throughout the city: BYA, PAL, OLPH, OLM, Holy Angels, Calvary Cross and certain independent groups.

League play is open to boys in fourth through eighth grades.

All teams interested in participating in this program must turn in a letter of intent, which includes team name, coaches names, addresses, and phone numbers along with a $1 per team entrance fee and a $5 per team refundable forfeit fee, to the Recreation Department no later than 5 p.m., December 6.

Parents interested in getting their boys on a team should contact the Department immediately to obtain the phone numbers of the city's Youth Athletic Directors.

The department recently concluded its 1st Youth Athletic Association Flag Football League with 15 teams making up the three divisions — Junior, Intermediate, and Midget.

The following information includes the championship team from each division, final league standings for that division, and the names of the coaches and players from each championship team:

ADULT CO-REC VOLLEYBALL LEAGUE

The Recreation Department's Adult Co-Rec Volleyball League went into its fourth week of league play with wins registered by the Lame Ducks, Floorburns, and A-1 Sans.

These three teams and the Our Gang crew have cinched play-off berths for the championship finals at the War Memorial Community Center, December 5, beginning at 7:15.

In games featured last week, the Lame Ducks smothered Our Gang 16-14 and 15-0, the Floorburns clobbered the Pachyderms 15-3 and 15-3, and A-1 Sans edged the Menehunes 15-2, 13-15, and 15-5.

ADULT THREE-MAN BASKETBALL

Huey Thomas scored 19 points to lead the undefeated Chiefs to a 41-13 victory over Chelsea Place in the Adult Three-Man Basketball League.

The Aardvarks knocked off the hapless Sandbaggers 40-21 behind the 18-point performance of Ken Liss. Pete Barry tallied 12 points to give the winners the needed back-up scoring while Paul Galvez scored 11 to lead the loser's offensive.

W & W Tool and Die remained in contention for league honors as they rambled past the Last Six by the core of 41-28. Mike Kennedy and Bob With led th eW & W attack scoring 16 + 15 points respectively while Verne Buer paced the losers with 14 points.

In final action, the Half Pints came out on top in a 49-44 thriller over the Hot Shots. George Ambrosio was a one-man gang as he scored 31 points for the winners. Jorgen Andersen kept the losers in the game all the way as he tallied 30 points.

'Most Successful' Waist Whittling Wingding at T-N

Over 250 fathers and daughters attended the fifth and "most successful" G.A.A. Waist Whittlin' Wingding at Terra Nova High.

Included among the recreational activities were volleyball, basketball, swimming, trampoline, balance beam, table tennis, shuffleboard, and miniature bowling.

Various demonstrations by students were given. In the modern dance category a "Poem Study" was presented by Sue Forbes, Jill Walley, Sharon Halverson, Lisa Elliot, and Beth Purkey.

There was also a "Levels Study" given by Bev Puderer, Sue Beckstead, Gigi Clark, Kandy Henderson, Christie Calais, Ketty Burdick, and Debbie Fuller. In the physical fitness category a routine to "Struttin' With Maria" was done by members of the G.A.A. Executive Council — Stella Hayes, Linda Price, Beth Byfield, Bonnie Kehoe, Diane Pierce, Judy Wellemeyer, Linda Carlton, Jan Schoefield, Colleen Morris, Rose Gersua, Ruth Conforte, and Judy Buffington.

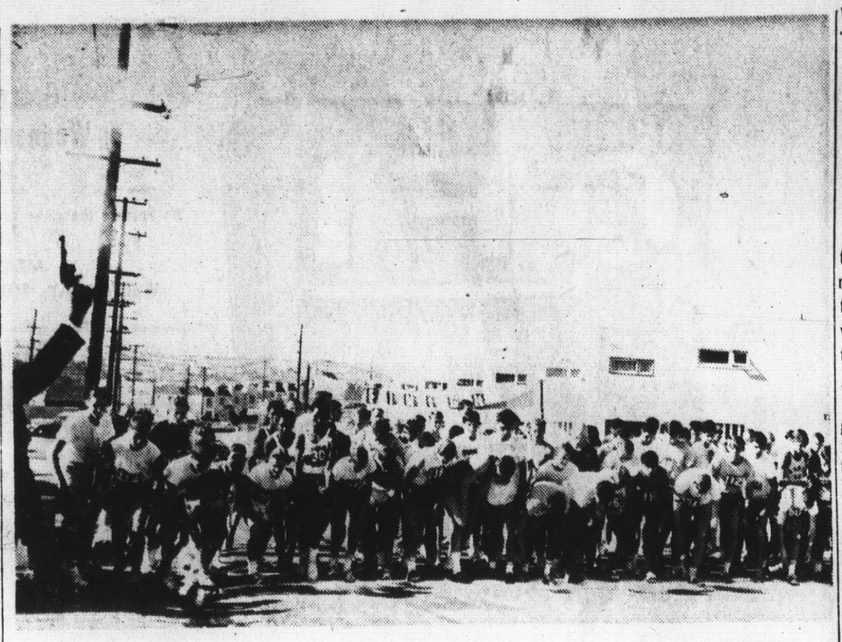
Demonstrating California Performance Test items were Gerri Reynolds, sit-ups; Sue Peterson, pushups; Nina Akin, standing broad jump; and Stella Hayes and Diane Pierce, softball throw.

Gymnastics demonstrations were given by Marilyn Willard on the trampoline and Donna Van Sickle on the balance beam.

The admittance fee was 1 cent a waistline inch, so special awards for the skinniest and the fattest family were presented to Gigi Clark and Mr. Knight, and the Tarrant family, respectively. The best all-around sport was Mr. Monin.

Three special awards were also given to three families who have not missed a Waist Whittlin' Wingding in the last five years. They were the Eldred family (Linda and Sue) The Kinsella's (Monica, Diane, Norma), and the Miller's (Jeanne and Carol).

The G.A.A. made enough money to pay expenses for the Wingding and to contribute to their scholarship and awards kitty.



MORE THAN 100 runners competed in the second annual Daly City Hill Run last Saturday in a race that saw both the high school and open division records for the 6.7-mile course broken. Darryl Beardall of the Marin Athletic Club took the open division title, and Darren Walton of Novato High School led the prep runners. (Post Photo)

New Records Set in 2nd Annual Daly City Race

Darryl Beardall of the Marin Athletic Club smashed the old course record in the Daly City Hill Run Saturday, beating out 120 contestants to take the open division title with a time of 36:31.04.

A Novato High School student, Darren Walton, took first place in the prep division with a time of 38:32.

Herb Potter from the Olympic Club took second place in open division competition, and Raymond Menzie, an unattached runner, took third.

Jim Bissonnette of Colfax High took second place in the prep division, and Ernie Dawson of El Camino High took third place.

Daly City councilmen Ed Dennis and Tony Giammona presented trophies and plaques to the winners and runners-up.

The hill run event was sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department.

Cap High Offers Sports for Girls

The boys are not the only ones that excell in sports at Capuchino High School. The girls have their own association for girls who are interested in sports — the G.A.A. or the Girls Athletic Association.

Capuchino is very proud of its girl athletes for a very good reason. The girls taking part in the various sports are proven to be good in showmanship and sportsmanship. The G.A.A. was started by Miss Betty Lumpkin in 1950. She is still the faculty advisor as well as the department head of the Girls P.E. at Cap. The G.A.A. originated "because the girls who are interested in athletics did not have an extra chance to practice the sports they like or to work more at the sport that needed practice." Miss Lumpkin recalls that since there were no athletic fields at Cap in 1950 the girls went to the San Bruno park to practice.

DIP CHUNKS OF BEEF — cooked at the table in bubbling oil — in tomato-y Devil sauce. You'll find this version of Fondue Bourguignonne good for a small dinner party main dish or an open-house appetizer.

Lively Party Dish From A Hot Kettle

Cook-it-yourself party dishes make for a lively evening. Fondue Bourguignonne is a particular favorite with young hostesses both as a main dish for small dinner parties and as a snack at larger gatherings.

What fun it is to sit around a pot of bubbling oil and cook chunks of tender beef just as you like them. Dip the cooked beef in spicy Devil Sauce, made from velvety canned tomato sauce, and serve on slices of French rolls. If you like, cook mushroom caps in the hot oil, too.

It's important to keep the oil at 400 degree F. so that the meat browns and cooks quickly. If you don't have a pot especially designed for cooking Fondue Bourguignonne, don't fret. An electric skillet will do just as nicely.

Make the Devil Sauce for the meat early in the day so the flavors will mellow and blend. Nothing to the sauce — just a can of red-ripe tomato sauce mixed with vinegar, sugar, horseradish and garlic. The fresh taste of the sauce comes from the full pound of sun-plumped tomatoes picked at the peak of ripeness, then slowly kettle-simmered that go into every 8-ounce can. The sauce, incidentally, is delightful on hamburgers, broiled fish and meatloaf, too.

Some hostesses like to serve a variety of sauces with Fondue Bourguignonne. Use bottled dressings, sour cream flavored with crumbled blue cheese or chives or mayonnaise blended with prepared mustard in addition to Devil Sauce.

FONDUE BOURGUIGNONNE WITH DEVIL SAUCE

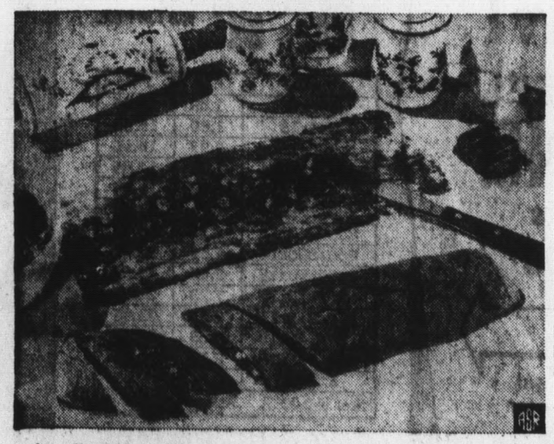
- 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 2 teaspoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon prepared horseradish
- ½ clove garlic, crushed
- 1 pound beef tenderloin, cut ¾-inch thick
- Fresh mushroom caps
- Parsley
- Pure vegetable oil
- French rolls, sliced

Early in day: Make Devil Sauce by combining tomato sauce, vinegar, sugar, horseradish and garlic. Pour into serving dish, cover with clear plastic wrap and chill.

Just before serving: Cut beef into ¾-inch cubes; arrange on platter with border of mushroom caps and parsley. Heat oil on range to 400 degree F.; pour into fondue pot to depth of 2 inches. Place pot on table and keep hot over canned heat or alcohol burner. Arrange meat, fondue forks, Devil Sauce and roll slices on table. Each guest picks up a meat cube or mushroom cap on fondue fork and holds it in hot oil until done to his liking, then dips it in Devil Sauce. Eat the meat on a slice of French roll. Makes 4 to 6 man dish servings, 12 appetizer servings.

NOTE: If you don't have a fondue pot, heat oil in electric skillet to 400 degree F. Maintain temperature of 400 as meat is being cooked.

Keep Cookie Tray Full for Holidays



A well-filled cookie tray is practically a must to have on hand during any holiday season. And this filled cookie will be a welcome addition to your collection. The dough is flavored with Baker's Semi-Sweet Chocolate, the filling a mixture of dried figs and nuts.

Fruited Chocolate Bars

- 4 squares semi-sweet chocolate squares
- ¼ cup milk
- ¼ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- 3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- ¾ cup butter or other shortening
- 1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 1½ teaspoons vanilla
- Fruit Filling

Combine chocolate and milk in top of double boiler. Cook over boiling water until blended and thickened, stirring constantly. Add ¼ cup brown sugar and continue cooking 5 minutes. Cool.

Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Cream shortening; add 1 cup brown sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Beat in egg; stir in chocolate mixture, milk, and vanilla. Add flour all at once; mix well.

Chill overnight, or until firm enough to roll. Divide dough in six parts. Roll each part on lightly floured board into a 4½ x 12-inch rectangle. Spread ⅓ cup of the Fruit Filling in 1½-inch strips down center of each rectangle. Fold dough over filling, overlapping edges. Brush edges with milk and seal. Place sealed side down on ungreased baking sheets and brush with milk. Bake at 350° for 20 minutes, or until done. Cool 5 minutes; then cut diagonally into 1-inch bars. Makes 5½ dozen bars.

Fruit Filling: Combine 1⅓ cups California ground figs, 6 tablespoons sugar, ⅔ cup water, and 2⅔ tablespoons grated orange rind in saucepan. Cook about 5 minutes, or until thickened, stirring constantly. Add 1 tablespoon lemon juice and ⅔ cup coarsely chopped walnuts. Cool. Makes 2 cups filling.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? From the name of this dish, Pauper's Pizza, you might guess its low cost—only 19 cents a serving. Each member of your family will feel like royalty when he tastes the hearty satisfying flavor that this unusual combination of weiners, bean with bacon soup and prepared condiments provide. An added plus — you can have this main dish on the table in an hour.

Relax Tired Budget With Pauper's Pizza

Busy day? Tired budget? Why don't you and your budget both relax with this supper idea from Pillsbury.

If your children are old enough to fix pizza for a party, they can easily whip up Pauper's Pizza, a recipe from Pillsbury's eighteenth Bake-Off. Even Dad will approve of this swingin' pizza version, for its hearty flavor combination of bean with bacon soup, hot dogs, cheese and seasonings takes it far out of the snack category.

It's a satisfying main dish which provides eight large servings for $1.48; that's about 19 cents a serving.

Suggest to the children that they complete the meal with fresh fruit salad (crunchy diced apples, orange sections and banana slices are a good combination), and to top the meal off, frosty dishes of sherbet or ice milk. Your youngsters will enjoy the diversion of fixing supper for a change — and since this meal can easily be prepared in less than an hour, it will be ready for the table before their attention wanders.

PAUPER'S PIZZA

1 cup buttermilk
1 tablespoon sugar
2 tablespoons butter
1 package active dry yeast
2 cups All-Purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon soda
4-ounce package pre-shredded Cheddar cheese

Topping:

11½-ounce can densed bean with bacon soup
¼ cup catsup
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1 pound weiners, cut in ½-inch slices

Oven 400 degrees. Eight servings.

Combine buttermilk, sugar and butter in large saucepan. Heat to lukewarm. Remove from heat. Add yeast; stir to dissolve. Stir in flour, salt and soda until well blended. Knead on floured on floured surface until smooth, about 1 minute. Let rest 10 minutes. Pat out dough onto greased 12-inch pizza pan or cookie sheet. Spread with topping; sprinkle with cheese. Bake at 400 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. Topping: Combine all ingredients; mix well.

Lemon Snow For Delicious Light Meal

The P-TA is sponsoring a show of "at home" fashions. Mom is one of the models so lunch must be light, delicious, and satisfying. A salad meal is the answer.

"V-8" Juice
Chef's Salad
Bread Sticks
Lemon Snow
Coffee Skim Milk

Lemon Snow: Prepare 1 package lemon flavored gelatin. Follow package directions. Chill until slightly thickened. Add 2 unbeaten egg whites and beat until mixture forms soft peaks. Pour into 1½ quart mold or individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serve with frozen raspberries, thawed, if desired. 8 servings.

Dinner To Win Praise For A Lady

What good woman wouldn't win praise with this sparkling little supper a la continental. It's so glamorous — and so easy, that's the joy of it all. The built-in seasoning and goodness of condensed soup is the element that creates the magic.

Old Fashioned
Vegetable Soup
Meatballs Bonne Femme
over Noodles
Tossed Green Salad
Doughnut a la Mode
Coffee Milk

MEATBALLS BONNE FEMME

1 pound ground beef
1 slice white bread, coarsely crumbled
¼ cup finely chopped onion
1 egg
½ teaspoon salt
Generous dash pepper
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup
½ cup sour cream
1-3 cup water

Mix together beef, bread, onion, egg and seasonings. Shape into 16 meatballs. Brown meatballs in skillet; pour off fat. Push meatballs to side; blend in soup, sour cream, and water. Cover; cook over low heat 20 minutes. Stir now and then. Serve with noodles. 3 to 4 servings.

Doughnut a la Mode: Place scoop of ice cream on doughnut. Serve with chocolate sauce; top with crushed peanut brittle.

George Mardikian Has Formula for Success

EACH TIME YOUR BRIGHT LIGHTER dines at George Mardikian's world famed Omar Khayyam's restaurant, in San Francisco, this gentle man with a remarkabwe philosophy on life stops by my table and adds more words of wisdom to my repertoire of wise sayings, for which I am very grateful. Thought you would enjoy Mr. Mardikian's "Recipe for Success." "Years ago an Armenian friend said, "George, how would you describe the formula for success" "It's simple," I replied. "Hard work. That is the thing that all successful careers have in common. I feel I must now tell you that the passing of years has made a difference. May I use the language of my profession of chef? Success is the reward you receive for preparing well a certain magic recipe: the recipe for a good life. It has three basic ingredients — belief in yourself, belief in your country and, most important, belief in God. The result will earn you beautiful and lasting success."

ART PETRI, managing owner of the fashionable L'Entrecote restaurant in Hillsdale, qualifies as an expert on wines, as well as gourmet cuisine. An executive in the wine industry before entering the restaurant field, Petri is an enthusiastic booster of California wines. As you will notice, the L'Entrecote wine menu lists only top California labels. "Vintage California wines are as good as their French or Italian counterparts," said the particular restaurateur ... Chef Robert Ortiz is the culinary genius behind the Mexican food fare found at the El Patio, in Menlo Park. The deluxe "El Patio Combination Plate" is one of the finest Mexican dishes served North of the Rio Grande ... The stage is set at Emerson Murfee's Villa Chartier and Lanai restaurants for one of the largest year-end business spurts in their history. You will well-appointed restaurants for your holiday fun. Don't forget to purchase Gift Certificates, which are good the year 'round, for that special holiday occasion. Liquors of popular brands, imported and domestic wines and champagne, plus your favorite mixes, are always available at the Lanai Liquor Store for entertaining in your home.

THE TUESDAY and Thursday night "All you can eat" sessions at the Hi-Fi Room South are still going strong, and owners Joe Borges and Ben Muniz wish they could stretch out the walls in order to handle the hungry crowds who flock here. Pizza and tacos are featured on these nights ... The Cookery continues to be one of San Mateo's 24-hour dine out "oasis." Manager "Robbie" Robertson invites stay-up-laters to take advantage of their "owl" breakfast, which is served from 2 a.m. to 6 a.m., seven days a week. The Cookery takes on the resemblance of a fashion showroom during the afternoon hours, as the local secretaries make this their luncheon coffee break headquarters ... Fabbro's in Redwood City, is famous for Lobster Tail and Chicken Cacciatore, both of which are specialties of the house. Chef Emelio Maldonado is the kitchen expert behind the food raves. Plenty of free parking is provided adjacent to the restaurant, reminds owner Frank Fabbro.

MARIA BARRA, topless trampoline girl at Gomans' Gay 60's, is one of the topless girls who dines with the winner in the Gay 60's "Topless Dating Game." ... Besides featuring a floor show star-studded with vocalists, exotic dancers and a group of fine musicians, Alexi's Zorba's de luxe supper club, in Burlingame, has one of the most outstanding chefs in the West in Peter Alex, whose authentic Greek cuisine speaks for itself. Peter Laris, new general manager, will be pleased to help you with menu selections and to take reservations for your holiday parties. Watch for the opening date of Laura, "The Darling of Greece." ... Banquets by the score seem to be one of the "house rules" at the New Southern restaurant. The Donati Brothers and Nick Sbarra have an extraordinary knack for booking private gatherings ... If you're planning an invasion of San Francisco New Year's Eve, suggest you give A. Sabella's Fisherman's Wharf restaurant a phone call for details for an evening of fun you will long remember. Dancing to Joe Marcellino's orchestra is on the gala program.

LOUIE GUNDUNAS of the Balkan Village usually lifts a table in his teeth to do his famed Greek Tavern Dance. Recently, Miss Edy Maggio of San Jose, climbed on the table to add an even more spectacular touch to the performance. Louie's powerful teeth and jaws survived the extra 110 pounds of charming femininity ... Raves galore from countless Longley's restaurant patrons on the paintings of Artist John Sackas depicting San Francisco's Old Produce Market. These original oil paintings, which capture the color and excitement of old San Francisco, are well worth a look-see while enjoying luncheon or dinner in Longley's, San Francisco's newest restaurant ... For small, intimate holiday group luncheons or dinners, try L'Auberge, the elegant Atherton bistro. Groups of 20, or so, can be accommodated in the private dining room.

FRANK TORRES' Montara Beach Hotel-restaurant is now taking holiday reservations. The usual New Year's Eve party fun is on the agenda ... December 7 has been set for the formal opening of the new dining room at Michael Gottlieb's Sheraton-Thunderbolt Hotel, in Millbrae. However, service is always available in the coffee shop 24 hours a day. The Nob Hill Trio entertains in the Thunderbolt Lounge from 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday; Sundays, a Latin group takes over the entertainment spot. No cover charge ... For an inexpensive luncheon of delightful Oriental cuisine, secretaries around the vicinity of 17th Avenue are finding Toshio Kiyohara's Irifune Japanese restaurant fills the bill ... The holiday spirit is quite evident the year 'round at Scotty Campbell's restaurant, Redwood City. The inviting atmosphere and friendliness of the owners and employees has you looking about for ol' St. Nick's cheery "Ho, ho, ho." ....

Circus Wins Applause From 5,000 at Palace

By FRANK LaPIERRE

There was only one thing wrong about the Moscow Circus which performed at the Cow Palace Thursday night to an audience of more than 5,000 —the intermission.

To say that the evening was a delightful diversion staged by a troupe of top professionals from half way round the world would be an understatement.

The Russian circus performers are professionals who have created an action-packed 2½-hour long spectacular, the likes of which the United States has never seen before.

There is no comparison between the three-ring circuses American audiences have become accustomed to and the Russian one-ring extravaganza.

They are indeed worlds apart!

In order to fully enjoy the Moscow Circus one must first dispel all thoughts that it will be only a "foreign duplicate" of the American circus.

True, there are acrobats, animals and what the Russians call "aerial gymnasts," but the similiarity ends there.

The Russian performers of the Moscow Circus have been gleaned from the more than 80 permanent touring circuses inside the Soviet Union.

Their high wire escapades are far more artistic than American acts and are performed to classical music — not a blaring brass band.

When Galina Adaskina performs her breathtaking feats high above the audience it is much like watching a scene from "Swan Lake." There is no "phoniness" about her act. No shaking to show the crowd the act is dangerous. And there is no net below.

The audience understands it is watching a true artist at work and applauds accordingly.

If a person had to decide which individual act "stole the show" at the Moscow Circus it would be an impossible task.

The show is fast-paced with no dilly-dallying around between or during acts.

As the prop men rush into the ring to rearrange the staging for the next act, two great artists — Yuri Nikulin and Nikhail Shidin — dash into the ring and distract the audience's attention away from the workers.

Neither Nikulin nor Shidin speak English (except for several phrases they have memorized) yet their mastery of the world of clowning causes children of all ages to roar with laughter at each of their many antics.

Their material is subtle and yet understood by young and old alike.

The Russians likewise do not have an elaborate "parade prologue" or finale to the circus. It is a simple walk-on and a wind-up song (in English and Russian) at the conclusion of the performance.

In between, the circus-goer watches another world unfold before his eyes.

A person forgets about the "Cold War," and a warm rapport builds up between the performers and the audience.

Watching Deerassa Tuganova and her "Daredevils on Horeback" gallop around the ring, fling themselves from their saddles, climb under and around their running horses, leaves little doubt as to the reasons why these Cossack horsemen are regarded as the finest in the world.

Their feats of horsemanship are legendary. It is easy to see why. The wild riding Cossacks are led in their act by . . . a woman.

The Russians love animal acts and the Moscow Circus has an ample amount of these — from Nicolai Ermakov and his delightful dogs, to world-famous Gosha the Bear.

In addition to Miss Tuganova's "Iriston" horsemen, there is another outstanding horseman, Nicolai Olkhovikov, who juggles everything from tumblers full of water to hats, while standing on the back of a galloping horse.

Larita and Magomed Magomedovs — billed as the Dagestan tight-rope walkers — are another thrilling highlight of the show.

Not only does Miss Megomedovs gingerly pick her way up and down a steep high wire, but sings classical songs while staging her act, sometimes while precariously balanced on the shoulders of her husband.

Unusual to a circus act is the inclusion of a magician — or master illusionist, as the Russians call Igor Kio.

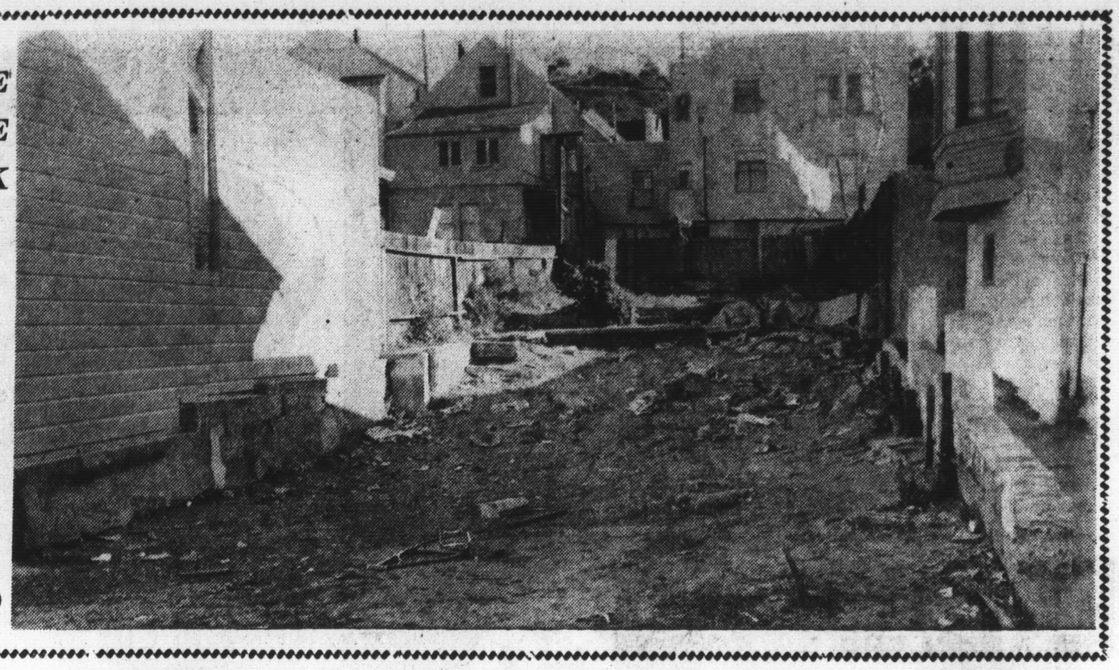
Kio has lived with magic since he was five years old, according to his local publicity agent, Art Blum.

Kio makes a human disappear and a lion appear in her place. And that's a REAL illusion.

The Moscow Circus has moved to the Oakland Coliseum for a five-day run that began yesterday.

If you miss the Moscow Circus you have only yourself to blame.

EYESORE OF THE WEEK



EYESORES SUCH AS THIS can be cleaned up with little effort, improving the looks of the entire neighborhood. The business end of a rake could certainly be used to good advantage at this eyesore. The remaining concrete foundation would also seem to present a hazard for playful children — not to mention the rocks, broken glass and pieces of metal tossed there.

Chimp Steals From Champs

The Ice Capades came back to the Civic Auditorium to brighten up the Thanksgiving season and they had an ace up their sleeve by the name of Spanky, a skating chimp.

It's a cruel, cold world that takes attractive and talented skaters for granted and praises the antics of a trained animal, but he's an irrisistible member of the company. Dave Pitts is the young man who partners with him and the pair are a kick as they do many of the same duo routines as are executed by more conventional partners, namely a boy and a girl.

Spanky nearly steals the show as he skates backwards, on his toes, forward in a single deep knee bend and leaps over a barricade. It's amazing that he is so at ease, never looking into the audience and never showing the least sign of stagefright. But contrary to a show business saying that children and animals make hard acts to follow, the bright eyed young company does just fine through two and a half hour program of spectacular skating and fancy productions.

THE FIRST HALF OF THE SHOW IS AIMED AT THE YOUNGSTERS in the audience, keeping them delighted with a Flintstone cartoon fantasy projected first on a large screen and then animated with stuffed bears, dinasaurs and a sophisticated tiger in top hat and spats. The second half of the show has more of the champions performing and the productions feature more daring routines.

One of the unusual features, one that keeps all age groups goggle eyed is a trampo-diving exhibition with Jim Custer as the instructor and a volunteer from the audience doing the most physically exhausting and balance defying acts we've ever witnessed. The grey haired volunteer turns out to be Vic Zoble, former world diving champion who takes to the mat, the bars, the ladders, the floor, the air with the grace and expertise of an old time acrobat, never removing his glasses, getting tied up in his own clothes and putting his body through such arcs and spins, loops and flops as a flounder on the beach.

The chorus line is regally costumed, radiant with pretty faces and wide smiles. But that's what we expect from an international lineup of first-rate professional skaters. What we didn't expect, and were delighted to discover is the exciting performance of Mitsuko Funakoshi who makes the "Inca Exotic" number backed by the chanted rhythms of "A Hard Day's Night" as daring as an Olympic contest. This Japanese boy has an animal magnetism that adds drama to his performance.

GISELA IS THE SEXIEST FEMALE ON ICE as she combines dance, acting and burlesque-style personality to her solo.

Terry Head has a refreshing way of dishing up the same old comedy bit, falling down, kidding with the audience, bumping into walls and playing the clown. Only this time his costume is that of the Royal Palace Guards and his zaniness looks spontaneous.

Its always a pleasure to watch a champion perform, especially when he's as agile and swift as Donald Knight. When two do it, its twice as enjoyable as when the World Professional Pair Skating Champions Guy Revell and Gertrude Desjardins take the spotlight.

This year's "Ice Capades" has a lot of zip, a full measure of glamour and something to win it a special place in my heart, the voice of the late and great Nat King Cole singing about six of his songs while the company supports the lyrics with a medley of beautifully choreographed dances.

Bob Hubbard keeps the suspense factor high as he leaps through revolving rings of fire after leaping backwards over barricades of crossed swords, plus a pretty kneeling girl.

Staging "Ice Capades" in the attractive Civic Auditorium lends to its built-in glamour. The double white staircases and white curtains create a handsome showcase. And they effectively use a movie screen through which the company exits and enters on cue from their identical character in the movie being shown. Its a clever bit of staging that takes perfect timing.

'Smokescreen' Label

THAT SPECIAL CHARTER STUDY COMMISSION appointed by the Board of Supervisors has made their recommendations on the matter of supervisory elections known. They want to keep the at-large system in force, instead of voting by district.

Actually the disclosure came as little surprise to most North County officials and interested citizens. The Commission had been labeled a "smokescreen" sent up to take the heat off the board.

In other words: Whatever the commission decided would likely be what the supervisors finally used as a platform to base their decision on. Most supervisors have fought the district supervisory election system since it was first mentioned by Daly City mayor Bud Lycett some two years ago.

Subsequently, the North County Council of Cities backed up Lycett's move and also asked for consideration of changing the present election system.

But the funny part of this whole mess is the fact that NO ONE has asked the supervisors to change the system! They HAVE ONLY ASKED THE MATTER BE PUT ON THE BALLOT AND LEFT UP TO THE PEOPLE OF THE COUNTY TO VOTE ON.

Come now, what's to be afraid of? Does the latin "Vox populi, vox Dei" hit the wrong nerve? And if you don't know what that means. . . .

SMUT DEPT. — After San Francisco State College Pres. John Summerskill assured everyone concerned THAT campus publication (Open Process) would stick to the straight and narrow on future publications, what do ya think happened? You guessed it: Another smutty publication. Thanks kids for restoring our faith in the future.

NOTES ON A SHABBY CUFF — The hawkers sold more Russian flags than U.S. flags at the recent Moscow Circus performances at the Cow Palace . . . We wondered how to tell the Russians from the Americans during Thanksgiving dinner the other p.m.

Didja know they look like just like us capitalists?? . . . Eyesores of the Week being undertaken by this newspaper is sure paying off if you can believe the volume of phone calls received . . . And why do we need a park on San Bruno mountain? There are already several areas that passersby have used to deposit their litter.

DALY CITY'S HEAD GARDENER, Augie Conci, complained to police this week that vandals had destroyed his flower garden in front of his home ALONG WITH CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS. Augie has GOT to be the first person in the North County to put up his Christmas display — unless you want to count all those commercially minded stores around town.

BIG NEWS FROM Post Sports columnist Le Pacini: Better buy U.S. Savings Bonds right now! The war in Vietnam is going so good they expect to split their stock. (Sic).

ART RESCHKE REPORTS that sidewalks have been installed on Westmoor and Westridge Avenues at Skyline which will enable pedestrians to stay out of the road and walk in safety. And isn't it about time?

THE NORTH COUNTY SANITATION BOARD is talking about hiring Daly City finance man Robert Hossli to standardize their accounting system. Hossli is expected to perform the additional function on his own time. (For additional money, of course). Reason for wanting Hossli is the fact the Board feels he is familiar with municipal accounting methods — and that's very important in bringing the outdated system up to acceptable standards.

OH, THE MEMORIES that Sal Carson and his Big Band brought back the other p.m. at the Thunderbolt Hotel when the Westlake Merchants Association got together to stage their third annual winter dinner dance.

All we can say is that was the night that was! We don't go back as far as Westlake Shopping Center's PR man Gene Perry (who gets kudos for the affair), but we remember quite a few of the Big Band Era boys — like Johnny Long, Russ Morgan and Guy Lombardo — and for our money Sal is right up there with the best of them.

And one thing old J.L. didn't have was the lovely Sylvia Gaylord to warble out some of those memorable tunes. We remember Miss Gaylord from our Las Vegas days where she knocked the lounge crowds dead at the Desert Inn and Flamingo Hotel out on The Strip.

The festivities were attended by some mighty well known localities, including D.C. mayor Bud Lycett, councilmen Michael DeBernardi, Frank Pacelli, Edward Dennis and Tony Giamonna; Westlake Center owner James Trevor; Edward King and Jack Kendree of Doelger Enterprises.

And that's a good note to close this column on . . .

Our Opinion

Plenty of Pride

There may not be as much honor among thieves as the old adage would have the less sophisticated believe. But there's plenty of pride. This may be a carry-over from the gunmen of the Old West, who assiduously cultivated reputations as fastest on the draw.

The Chicago Crime Commission, which is preparing a Who's Who of the syndicate underworld, reports it has received some inquiries from lower echelon mobsters who are afraid their names will be omitted from the list, thus ruining their reputations.

An Era of Credit!

The American family lives today in an era of easy and instant credit.

Buy today - live today - pay tomorrow are the slogans used in advertisements the consumer is faced with daily. Unsolicited credit cards deluge the mails.

The staid banker of a few years ago now promotes the use of his bank's credit system.

The credit card system is not new. Around 100 banks in 1959 issued them with little success. Bank credit cards did not catch on until 1966 when five Chicago banks launched an intensive propaganda program using parades, floats, clowns, balloons and even pretty girls who handed out credit applications to anyone who lined the streets to watch the parade.

Five million credit cards went through the mails arousing angry cries from the people who resisted the idea of easy credit. A spokesman for the Beverly Unitarian Church said, "We feel that competition to introduce people to get deeper in debt is socially irresponsible."

Members of the church were urged to bring their credit cards to a public burning in the church fireplace. A three-year-old reportedly received two credit cards through the mail.

The Chicago banks rushed into wild competition to see who could sign up the most stores. Charges were slashed in the rush with the result the discount rate which originally ran 3 per cent to 5 per cent dropped to 2 per cent and 4 per cent.

Cards were lost and stolen in the mail. One bank posted a fraud loss of $46,000 for one day alone. Three of the Chicago banks revoked their cards and issued new cards to selected customers by registered mail. Recently Robert Martindale, president of Midwest BankCard System said, "The worst of it is behind us."

THE WESTERN BANKS benefited by the midwest's mistakes. The 70 banks belonging to the California Bankcard Association restricted their cards to bank customers or shareholders.

Bank of America is licensing a number of banks around the country to issue its BankAmericard. Philadelphia National Bank became a licensee of the Bank of America because it felt it less costly to be a licensee than to start up its own credit card plan.

According to John Dillon, vice-president and statewide director, "more than 5,300,000 persons now hold BankAmericard and it is honored by 150,000 outlets."

Where is this increase in consumer credit leading to?

Consumer installment debt is over $70 billion. There has been a steady rise in bankruptcies. During the years 1958-1963 income doubled but debt increased five-fold. Bankruptcy Referee Donald R. Franson, who has jurisdiction over eight Central California counties says, "Our credit economy—that is the reason for it. When the law was laid out, credit was virtually unknown."

Capitol Hill is worried.

House Banking Committee chairman, Wright Patman, scheduled public hearings to listen to his bill limiting bank mailing of credit cards to persons who request them and also the amount of credit to be limited to the card holder. Rep. Joseph Karth is sponsoring a bill to require all unsolicited credit cards to be mailed by registered mail with return postage guarantee when the card is refused or undeliverable. Is credit being misused?

'Youthomania' Reigns

"A visitor to our shores might well decide from the mass communications media that the youth of America has reached some sort of hysterical dementia" — Thus begins "Youthquake," a survey by the United Press International and Look Magazine, — "but," the editors add, "misconceptions are commonplace for those who miss the vast stretch of common sense lying between New York's Washington Square and Hollywood's Sunset Strip."

Youthquake is full of statistics. For example, "In 1964, the latest year for which figures are available, there were 101,800 known illegitimate babies born to girls 15 through 19 years. In 1963 there were 5400 babies born to unmarried girls fourteen and under."

SUCH STATEMENTS are linked with a few words by the editor and slipped into a place beside pictures as shocking as the statistic. Each picture is accompanied by a caption that is, for the most part, a rather meaningless comment. Such as "Ignorance, distortion, misinformation and conflicting values abound," or "It is likely that the teen-agers are more openly reflecting the behavior patterns secretly practiced by older people."

Yet "Youthquake," is a book worth the time one spends with it. The sections that seemed most significant to me are those entitled "Conversations That Parents Never Hear."

One of the conversants is a hustler whose clients come from Capitol Hill in Washington, D.C. Another is an unwed mother and still another is a cheerleader from a Maine high school who refuses to worry because the times are too confusing.

One conversation allows a draft dodger to sound off. "We students of the democratic society have a good idea—'Build not Burn,' and I'll do it in my way. I can work in an insane asylum or with Goodwill, anything but a connection with the Army."

A SECTION of Youthquake beginning with a page of green paper discusses the out and the in. "If you haven't got wheels, man, you're nowhere. You're not fit . . . You're hung up in a neighborhood with no guitar."

Pinestripe double-breasted suits and fat ties are coming back. The mini skirt is still in to the tune of a one billion dollar industry.

Bob Dylan is in. Nancy Sinatra and Lynn Redgrave are hitting the cool. World War II uniforms and old stage costumes are in. The twist is out; the boogaloo is in. Skiing in bikinis is a double in; panty raids are a double out.

Led by the Beatles many young people are bored with being "jolly lads," yet they find no way out of the mad, mad mod that they have created for "the tense 60's."

"Youthomania" reigns supreme!

WESTMOOR WHIRL

Town Hall Helps Break a Barrier

Westmoor's recent Town Hall meeting proved to be an important step in breaking the communication barrier between adults and teenagers and achieving understanding of one another.

The sponsoring P-TA organized some 200 students and parents into discussion groups of 20, with a Westmoor teacher acting as a moderator. No student and his parent were in the same discussion group.

Using a set of eight broad questions contributed by the Westmoor psychology classes as guidelines, each group was free to pursue any topic.

For two hours the groups talked about legalization of marijuana, the teenagers' role in life, the Vietnam War and the teenager, de facto segregation in schools, improvement of the Westmoor educational system to better meet the needs of the students and sex education.

Sipping coffee and punch supplied by the P-TA hostesses, parents heard students comment about their feelings of insincerity in the daily Pledge of Allegiance to the flag, and some students' refusal to participate.

Parents, mostly of World War II high school days, countered with their feelings about the flag.

In another group discussing sex education in the schools, a teenager pointed out the difference between philosophy and truth when he said, "I think that sex should be taught in the home, but unfortunately I don't think that the adults know enough about it or are capable of explaining it in an adult manner."

Students in another group were surprised to hear a parent, commenting on the present school boundary proposals, say, "I don't think we should have public meetings; after all we elected school board trustees, whom we felt were thoughtful and capable men, to make this decision," and many of the parents in the group openly concurred.

Summing up several thoughts on the Town Hall, Mrs. William Hawkins, mother of two teenagers, stated "The town hall" made the adults stop and realize what the children think and how they react to home life, sex and drugs."

The Town Hall achieved free discussion since not only did the discussion provide insight into the teenagers' world but as senior, Trudy Erickson explained, "Town Hall gave us a firsthand view of the adult world. The fact that 150 students did participate, and none did so because of grades, proves that students are concerned about the adult world."

Interest was expressed by many in having more Town Halls. Program chairman and vice president of Westmoor's P-TA, Jane Powell, who organized the Town Hall has taken steps toward more such meetings.

Attributing the Town Hall's success to the sincere honesty expressed, Powell commented, "as long as you can get two people talking and listening to each other, you're meeting with success."

Summations of the various discussion groups given by each group's recorder are being prepared for distribution at the next P-TA meeting.

REPRESENTING WESTMOOR in the 10th annual University of Santa Clara High School Mathematics Contest were 22 advanced algebra and math analysis students, accompanied by math teachers Rodney Crittenden and David Lew.

Participating in the three-hour program were students Rich Giusti, Mike Brown, Carol Barnes, Kathy Blume, Don Blackfield, Larry Diamond, Steve McBride, Don Weiden, Dave Smotkin, Dario De Ghetaldi and Betty Hodgskiss. They had to solve seven problems which required student creativity and ingenuity.

The contest was judged chiefly according to different grade levels of the participants, so a student competed against his own age group.

This is Westmoor's third year of participation in the program.

Last year James Reed received an honorable mention for his solutions.

N. County Accidents

Injuries marred Thanksgiving for a number of North Peninsulans last week, includ ng three pedestrians who collided with automobiles.

Danny Warner, 2-year-old son of Mrs. Charlotte Warner, 1067 San Mateo Avenue, San Bruno, was taken to Peninsula Hospital with multiple lacerations, a fractured right leg, and a possible head injury, after an auto-pedestrian collision at 1145 Montgomery Street at 6:30 p.m. He was reportedly recovering satisfactorily today.

Penfield E. Jensen, 25, 542 Church Street, San Francisco, was transferred to San Francisco General Hospital with a left leg injury received in an auto-pedestrian collision at Visitacion Avenue and Old Bayshore in Brisbane, about 10 p.m.

Carlos Orellana, 25, San Francisco, was dismissed after emergency care for chest injuries and abrasions received in an auto-car accident in Millbrae.

June A. Smith, 44, 112 Lomitas Avenue, South San Francisco, was treated and dismissed for injuries received in an auto accident at 469 Grand Avenue, South San Francisco, at 10:30 p.m.

Mrs. Nellie Oberhofer, 80, 1720 Sherman Avenue, was admitted with a hip fracture suffered in a fall at her home. She is said to be recovering satisfactorily.

Leon C. Pennell, 57, also fell at home, 116 San Felipe Avenue, San Bruno, was admitted with a head injury, multiple abrasions and contusions. He is said to be in satisfactory condition today.

Mark Schneider, 20, 201 Santa Lucia Avenue, San Bruno, was admitted with a wound in the right upper leg, suffered in a hunting accident, and was said to be in satisfactory recovery.

New Branch For Bank

First National Bank of Daly City will open a third office, to be located in South San Francisco.

President Evert Terminello has received word from the Controller of Currency is Washington, D.C., that the four-year-old financial institution had been authorized to open a branch at 211 Airport Boulevard, in the commercial center of South San Francisco.

It was announced by Ricco Lagomarsino, chairman of the board, that a new $250,000 banking home would be built at this location "as soon as plans are completed and contracts can be let."

First National's other offices are in Daly City and Pacifica. The bank has had a rapid growth since its opening in May, 1963, and last month reported assets of $12,337,000. Its earnings for the first half of this year were $43,979 or $1.47 per share for the 30,000 shares outstanding.

THE POST AUTO WORLD

Setting a new high for any November selling period, Cadillac dealers delivered a record 7,236 new Cadillacs during the first 10 days of November, it was reported by Fred T. Hopkins, general sales manager of the division.

The new record of 7,236 tops the former November selling record, 7,207, set in the last 10 days of November, 1966, and is more than 12 per cent over the 6,427 domestic deliveries of a year ago during November 1-10.

For the calendar year-to-date, domestic deliveries now total 175,774, surpassing by more than six per cent the 164,958 deliveries during the same period in 1966 — Cadillac's best year in history.

Buick's 1968 California GS high performance coupe, sold principally by California dealers, and introduced only last week, is being well accepted in sales and showroom traffic. The California GS was originally introduced as a mid-year 1967 model.

According to Joe Putnam, of Putnam Buick, Buick's 1968 GS 400 sales in this area have doubled the 1967 introduction period. This success is in part due to the fact that the Hearsch linkage has been incorporated for the first time in the GS 400's four-speed (four on the floor) transmission, which is good news for the sport buffs.

Chrysler Division sales for the first ten days of November totaled 24,408 units, compared with 24,652 cars sold in the same period last year.

Sales by car lines for the first ten days of November: Plymouth 17,440; Chrysler 6,490; Imperial 478.

Today's rubber tire has less rubber in it than other ingredients. The average passenger car tire weighs 22 pounds but contains only 10 pounds of rubbre, according to Uniroyal tire engineers. And three-quarters of this rubber is synthetic. It also contains about six pounds of carbon black to make the rubber wear longer, four pounds of chemicals and oils to give the rubber durability and resistance to aging, one and one-half pounds of fabrics for strength and half a pound of steel for bead wire.

Ford Division is planning on record production and sales for the first quarter of 1968, according to M. S. McLaughlin, Ford vice-president and division general manager.

McLaughlin said the division would break its previous sales record of 526,000 cars in the first three months of the new year. He said that more than 774,000 cars and trucks, also the previous record, would be built.

The division, catching up after a two-month strike, is getting ready for a "sales boom", McLaughlin said. He said the coming upsurge in sales and production will result from the excellent reception of the company's 1968 models, plans laid to regain the momentum established before the strike closed company plants, and the fact that many potential Ford customers were willing to wait for cars and trucks from Ford Division.

A tip when driving in wet weather — When you drive through a deep puddle or in a heavy rainstorm be careful. Your brakes may disappear. "Brakes go bad when wet and you should apply them gently — and with plenty of margin for error — a number of times until they dry out," says Harold Fuerst of Maremont Corporaon.

S.S.F. Adult Homemaking Classes Set

Two new classes in Homemaking Department are being added in the South San Francisco Adult Education.

"Alterations and fitting" will be given on Monday's, 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., and tailoring and dressmaking" will be given each Wednesday, 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Both classes are open to all interested persons in learning the modern principles and techniques in garment construction. Both individual class instruction will be given as well as the basic information necessary to rehabilitate ill-fitting clothing.

Further details may be had by telephoning the Adult Education office, 583-5746.

Stereo Theft In Daly City

A stereo record player was taken from the Crocker Street residence of Gladys Benofsky in Daly City in a burglary sometime Friday, police reported.

Entrance to the house was gained through smashing a rear window.

Socialites Aiding Hospital Benefit

The most distinguished socialites of the San Francisco Bay Area will be appearing in their fashionable best next Thursday evening, November 30, at the Fairmont Hotel Hospital Benefit Ball.

The black-tie event is being held for the benefit of three San Francisco-area hospitals: St. Luke's, Mary's Help, and Mount Zion.

The Hospital Benefit Ball climaxes the Fairmont Hotel's year-long celebration of its sixtieth birthday. Benjamim H. Swig, chairman of the board of the Fairmont Hotel Co., and Richard L. Swig, president of the Fairmont Hotel Co., and managing director of the Fairmont Hotel, are assuming all costs of the gala ball.

Ticket sales, at $125 per couple, are under the auspices of the women's auxiliaries of the three hospitals. Proceeds from the all will supplement each hospital's fund-raising programs.

Ben Swig announced that the hotel will donate all the food, wine and entertainment for the ball, as well as the use of the Fairmont's Grand Ballroom and Ernie Heckscher's 11-man orchestra.

Capacity of the Grand Ballroom is approximately 1,500 persons, and it is the goal of the three hospitals and the Messrs. Swig that a maximum of 750 tickets be sold.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"
Small cavities in the teeth can be filled more easily and with less discomfort than large ones.
If decay is neglected it leads to infection and abscess formation. An infected tooth is a hazard to good health and often must be removed.
A tooth that has been lost should be replaced by an artificial one. If it is not, the other teeth will shift. This shifting may lead to more decay and to diseases of the gums.
Irregular placement of the teeth should be corrected for many reasons: To improve appearance, speech, and the ability to chew foods and to help prevent other dental diseases.
Have your dentist check for cavities and follow his recommendations if treatment is needed.
Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extraction for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth. Dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Burglars Raid Auto Dealer

A defunct automobile dealership in San Bruno, Gil Hile Chrysler and Plymouth Co., was burglarized sometime Wednesday or Thursday, and an automobile and several hundred dollars worth of business machines were taken from the premises.

Police said burglars gained entrance to the service department of the building by prying open a side door.

Once inside, they broke open a door to the main office and removed adding machines, typewriters and other equipment, then loaded the merchandise into a car stored in the service department.

Bank Seizes Auto Stock

SAN BRUNO — The Bank of America seized the 400-car stock of Peninsula auto dealer Gil Hile Wednesday, explaining "we exercised the right to take our collateral."

Asked whether some financial trouble was involved, a bank spokesman replied, "basically, you might call it that."

"MY BEST CHRISTMAS"

TODAY'S CONTEST WINNERS!

$5 GIFT CERTIFICATE FOR

RENA FANNING
3603 Orinda Drive, San Mateo

Rena is 10 years old and is in the 5th grade at George Hall School. She has one younger brother. Her favorite pastime is riding her bike. She has a cat whom she loves very much.

Rena writes: "My best Christmas was my baby brother's first Christmas. Looking at this little baby reminded me that many years ago another baby was born in a far away land. On Christmas we celebrate the birthday of the baby Jesus Christ. Watching my new born brother brought me closer to the spirit of the season and told me why Christmas and children go together. As each new toy was given to my brother, I thought of the Three Wise Men and the gifts they brought to the Baby in the manger many years ago."

PAUL BARULICH
285 Castenada Drive, Millbrae

10 year old Paul is in the 5th grade at Spring Valley School. He has two older brothers. A jr. sportsman, he likes hunting in particular. He also keeps busy playing the drums and is a member of the Millbrae Lyons Little League baseball team during the summer. Paul writes: "My best Christmas was when I was 5 years old. On Christmas Eve I said 'I'm going to stay up all night to surprise Santa Claus'. My mother said 'No!, it will be past your bedtime', so I went to bed. When my mother and father went to bed, I got out of bed and went in the living room and hid behind the couch near the tree. I waited such a long time that I fell asleep and I never got to see Santa Claus."

Bids to Widen Bayshore Asked

Bids will be opened in Sacramento on December 6 for a contract to widen Bayshore Freeway (US 101) to eight lanes from just south of the San Bruno Avenue Overcrossing near San Bruno to the Third Street Overcrossing in San Francisco, a distance of 6.5 miles.

The contract will include widening of various structures in the first stage of construction, to accommodate added freeway width; also widening of the northbound Harney Way off-ramp to Candlestick Park. A total of about fourteen months will be required to complete all work in the $3,200,000 project.

As traffic volumes have increased along Bayshore Freeway a number of projects have been completed over the past several years to provide additional lanes and improved ramp service to and from the freeway. One of the first was the section between Broadway in Burlingame and the San Bruno Overcrossing, which provided eight lanes through the area passing San Francisco International Airport.

The project now being advertised for bids on December 6 will extend these eight lanes from the San Bruno Avenue Overcrossing to the San Francisco County line. Another project has been included in the 1968-69 fiscal year budget for $2,850,000, to reconstruct the Third Street Overcrossing and widen the James Lick Freeway (US 101) in San Francisco from six to 10 lanes between Third Street and Bacon Street with modifications to ramps in this area.

Sewage Solution Offered

A plan was advanced today to provide a permanent solution to San Francisco's refuse, garbage, sewage and resulting air and water polution problems; it would also relieve Brisbane residents of disposal of San Francisco garbage there.

It will be proposed to San Francisco officials by the General Refuse Disposal Corp. and calls for an estimated $25 to $30 million plant to be built on from five to ten acres. The plant would handle 2,500 to 3,000 tons of refuse from San Francisco and nearby areas and 25 million gallons of sewage a day, or double the waste produced by San Francisco's residents.

The plant, which could be operational within four years, would incinerate refuse, treat sewage and generate steam which could be piped and sold as a source of power, according to Chauncey D. Allen, president of General Refuse Disposal Corp., of San Francisco.

Parking Law Is Adopted

South San Francisco councilmen last week adopted a long-pending ordinance amendment imposing new parking requirements for firms in the city's industrial district.

The ordinance was approved after planning commissioners concurred with a council recommendation that off-street parking rules be determined on the basis of employes at each plant.

Under the new regulations, adopted to implement an expected "on-street" parking ban in the industrial area, each firm will be required to provide one parking space for each two employes, or one space for each 1,500 square feet of floor space.

The council again continued action on the parking ban proposal, in order to study a report prepared by Police Chief John Fabbri.

Mayor Patrick Ahern instructed the city manager to notify representatives of the city's industrial firms that the scheduled public hearing "will definitely be held at the next council meeting."

The South San Francisco Industrial Park Association requested the parking ban several months ago. However, some firms have voiced opposition to the proposal.

In other business at Monday's meeting, the council approved a request from the Peninsula Yellow Cab Co. for a taxi cab fare increase in the city.

Taxi fares were increased from 90 cents to $1.10 for the first mile, and from 50 cents to 60 cents for each additional mile.

In supporting the rate increase, Mayor Ahern said the firm is providing excellent service to the city, "and should not be discouraged from continuing operations."

A representative from the taxi company told the council two weeks ago that the fare increase is an "absolute necessity" if the firm is to maintain its high level of service.

In a related matter, the council voted to deny a use permit for another taxi company in the city, after noting the competition would "probably make it impossible for either company to survive."

"It would be ridiculous to throw in more competition before the new Yellow Cab Company has a chance to perform," Ahern said.

The additional permit was requested by the Thrifty Cab Company.

Lone Robber Gets $300

A lone robber held up the Geneva Drive-In Theatre in Daly City Friday night, and escaped with about $300 in cash, police reported.

Officers said a man wearing a red mask and a top coat approached the cashier at the drive-in on Geneva Avenue about 9:15 p.m., and demanded the register receipts.
